"Ask now of history's authentic page,
And call up evidence from every age."

Sam Insull, playing both ends of the Chicago public utilities against the middle by generously contributing to the Democratic and Republican senatorial candidates, borrowed a thought from Pope—
"And nobly wishing party rage to cease,
To buy both sides and give thy country peace."

"Annual income twenty pounds; annual expenditure nineteen, nineteen, six—result happiness. Annual income twenty pounds; annual expenditure twenty pounds nought and six—result misery. The blossom is blighted, the leaf is withered, the god of day goes down upon the dreary scene, and—end, in short, you are forever floored." The retirement of Premier Micawber appears to be permanent as the Ponape government definitely decides to stop waiting for something to turn up.

Since Spain's popular Ambassador is to retire it is to be hoped that he has become sufficiently attached to Washington to desire to remain here among his many friends—that is, if the Spanish quota for July isn't full.

The President's embarrassment growing out of a front-page story in a Syracuse paper by a special ambassador to White Pine camp emphasizes the desirability of restricting the Citronella Trail exclusively to those discreet Washington correspondents who never believe anything unless they get it from the Official Spokesman himself.

rumored in sparrow circles that he made an insulting remark about the

It was a herculean task which confronted Robert Todd Lincoln, that of being the son of the Great Emancipator, but without achieving fame, he carved out for himself an honorable career, and dies little known, but universally respected.
Who would be bold enough to be a son of George Washington?

It looks as though Pa Ferguson would have to go to work for a living.

These charges that licker can be obtained on the Leviathan somehow look like mighty clever publicity for the American lines.

Here's a little bit of bad news
this morning for Senator Butler: Dave Walsh announces his candidacy for the Senate, and State Chairman McElwain will also stick to the end. This ought to hold the Massachusetts Republicans.

Well, it's a mighty good thing
John Bunyan finally decided to go ahead and publish his Pilgrim's Progress—first edition copy sells said, Not so;

Some said, It might do good, others said, No."

Great Britain, with characteristic stupidity, reverses her historic policy

WITNESSES REFUSE TO GIVE DATA ASKED IN ILLINOIS INQUIRY

Insull's Funds Assisted Senate Candidates
in Both Parties.

SILENT ON DONATION TO CROWE'S FACTION

Reed's Committee Gives the Utilities Magnate More Time to Answer.

Chicago, July 26 (By A. P.).— Launching its long-heralded investigation into the Illinois senatorial primary, the Senate campaign funds committee today struck several snags.

After testifying that he had contributed $125,000 to the candidacy of Col. Frank L. Smith, Republican nominee, and chairman of the Illinois commerce commission and $15,000 to the successful Democratic candidacy of George E.
Brennan, Samuel Insull, Chicago public utilities executive, declined, pending conference with counsel, to say whether he had given financial aid to the Crowe-Barrett political organization in Chicago, which supported Smith.

Previously Allen F. Moore, of Monticello Ill., campaign manager for Col. Smith and Republican national committeeman, had declined to say who, beside himself and In-sull, were the chief contributors to the Smith campaign fund. He himself spent about $75,000 in Smith's interests, he said.

Both Given More Time.

Insull was excused until tomorrow so that he might confer with his attorney, while Moore was given until Wednesday to produce his private memoranda, kept in cipher, and other papers bearing upon the campaign.

Senator Reed (Democrat), Missouri, the committee chairman, directed Moore before his reappearance to confer with Col. Smith and "ascertain whether he wants to assume responsibility of refusal to disclose fully the names of contributors and the purposes for which money was paid."

The Republican national committeeman told the committee that the total sum "employed" in the Smith campaign was $253,547.51 and presented a statement showing the purposes for which the money was spent.

Moore said he kept no books and that the totals which he furnished the investigators were made up by an examination of his check stubs.

Insull Calls Self Farmer.

Insull, who described himself as "a public utilities executive and incidentally a farmer," testified that besides the $125,000 which he gave to the Smith organization he spent $34,734.85 during the primary campaign early this year in propaganda among the foreign language groups and the negroes, opposing American entrance into the world court.

"There is no question that Col.
Smith benefitted from this campaign," Insull declared in response to a question by Senator Reed,
"but I would have spent it whoever the candidate had been because I was very much concerned on the world court question."

Besides hearing Insull and Moore, the committee examined at two sessions today Col. Smith, George E. Brennan, Democratic Senate nominee and national committeeman from Illinois, and Chester A. Willoughby, secretary to Senator William B. McKinley, who was defeated for renomination.
More than half a dozen other witnesses are under subpoena and several of them will be heard when the inquiry is resumed tomorrow.

Smith Refers Them to Moore.

Smith professed virtually no knowledge of the financing of his campaign, and referred the committee to Mr. Moore for answer to most of its questions about his organization. He said he could name none of his committee except Moore and that he personally had given $5,000 to his campaign fund.

The committee declined to listen to a statement which Smith asked to read when he was called to the stand, but after his questioning had been concluded he was permitted to read it. Before he had gone far, however, Chairman Reed stopped him as Smith launched into an attack on Senator Caraway (Democrat), Arkansas, who some weeks ago repeated to the Senate charges that more than $2,000,000 had been spent in behalf of Col. Smith.
Smith protested vigorously, de-

Representative Hill Gives Blood to Save Wife's Life

More Than Pint Taken in Transfusion Necessary From Internal Hemorrhages Following Operation—Sacrifice Successful and Recovery Is Expected.

Representative John Philip Hill, of Maryland, gave more than a pint of his blood to save the life of his wife, Mrs. Susan Hill, who was in a critical condition from internal hemorrhages at Emergency hospital yesterday afternoon. A short time after the transfusion physicians said that although Mrs. Hill's condition was serious, her recovery was expected.

Mrs. Hill, who underwent a serious operation at Emergency hospital two weeks ago, was stricken with the hemorrhages at her home, 1312 Sixteenth street northwest, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while she was alone with her servants.
Only a few seconds after she was stricken, Representative Hill arrived home for dinner.

Realizing the serious condition of his wife, Representative Hill telephoned to her physician, Dr.
Charles Stanley White. Dr. White told the representative that an immediate operation would be neces-

MEYER DAVIS CHARGES DISMISSED BY JUSTICE

Case Resulting From Fatal Crash of Autos Dropped at Hectic Hearing.

THREATEN JURY APPEAL

Meyer Davis, cafe proprietor and orchestra impresario, was freed of charges of manslaughter and reckless driving after a tumultuous hearing held last night in Hyattsville.
State's Attorney Alan Bowie announced immediately afterward that he would take the case to the grand jury.

The charges against Davis grew out of a crash in Riverdale the night of June 2, in which Bernard Becker, of Philadelphia, was killed.
Becker was a passenger in an automobile driven by Davis when it was in collision with a machine operated by William Rogers.

When Justice of the Peace John
J. Fainter dismissed the charges, State's Attorney Bowie jumped to his feet and, in an angry voice, shouted:

"The State notes an appeal, and announces that this case will be taken to the grand jury. I will see that some action is taken."

M. Hampton Magruder, counsel for George B. A. Becker, father of the man who was killed, followed Bowie.

"I have never heard of a more flagrant instance of prejudging a case," he said. "We anticipated the whole business. The State's attorney and I were warned in advance."

J. Wilson Ryan, one of the three attorneys representing Mr. Davis, interjected a statement at this point.

"Counsel for Meyer Davis," he declared, "says that this sounds like sour grapes."
There was a burst of handclapping when Justice of the Peace Fainter announced his decision.
But when the State's attorney declared that he was going to take the case to the grand jury, there was even more applause and loud shouts of approval.

The hearing, which was held in the garden of Constable Thomas Garrison's home, was attended by more than 100 persons.

In dismissing the charges against
Mr. Davis, Justice of the Peace Fainter said that he felt that the accident was an unavoidable one.
Referring to the testimony of witnesses that the Davis machine was traveling between 40 and 50 miles an hour, he said that it was impossible for a pedestrian standing on the curb to judge the speed of an automobile.

Mr. Davis attended the hearing, but did not testify. In fact, none of the defense witnesses testified.
Miss Marion Northrop, who was in the Davis machine when the crash occurred, also was present.

Wesleyan Ministry Is Closed to Women

York, England, July 26 (By A.
P.).—Women won't be able to become ministers in the Wesleyan church yet awhile, their victory of last Tuesday at the congress of ministerial and lay representatives having proved short lived.

At a pastoral session confined to ministerial representatives today, an amendment sending the report back to committee for further consideration was adopted, 204 votes to 149.

FIGHTING HURRICANE, STEAMER ASKS AID; DAMAGE IN FLORIDA

8 Reported Drowned Off Pompano; Some Lost
at Roney Plaza.

CARGO OF DYNAMITE IN DANGER AT MIAMI

Porto Rico Is Struck; 2 Craft
With 35 Persons Aboard, Reported Missing.

Miami, Fla., July 26 (By A. P.).
Distress reports were received from the steamship Ansaldo San Elorgie by the Tropical Radio station here at 10:30 o'clock tonight. The vessel stated she was helpless with a damaged rudder.

At 11:45 p. m., S. O. S. calls from the Ansaldo were answered by the Ward liner Orizaba, which messaged it was proceeding to its aid.

A message picked up by the Tropical radio station at Hialeah, said the Ansaldo was in danger of sinking.

Anxiety was felt here tonight for the 75-foot yacht Cinnabar, which has not been heard from since it left Saturday for the Bahamas with ten persons on board. The 50-foot motorboat Zuleta, of Brunswick, Ga., with 25 persons on board, also
left yesterday morning for a one-day cruise.

Miami Area in Danger.
Authorities at Pompano, Fla., tonight reported they were checking reports from fishermen that eight men were drowned off Pompano.

A tropical hurricane raged along the lower Florida coast and the Ba-hama islands today and threatened to turn its course inland over the Miami area late today.

Damage at Roney Plaza.

Undetermined damage has resulted from wind and waves at the fashionable Roney Plaza at Miami Beach, while several houseboats moored at bay front docks were smashed. Coast guard rendered aid to other craft which broke anchor and drifted into the bay. Trees were uprooted. Wind dashed waves high over the causeway connecting Miami and Miami Beach.

Shipping suffered considerable damage when the gale lashed the inner harbor. Two small tugboats sank, two pleasure craft were destroyed, and three houseboats were demolished.

Dynamite Barge in Peril.

A barge laden with 400 cases of dynamite, berthed at the Bayfront dock, a stone's throw from the business district, was threatened for a time by small boats, which broke from their hawsers. One large bark was swept out into the current, missing the dynamite lighter by inches. A large houseboat, with two persons aboard escaped from its dock and was borne several miles southward in the bay.

The tanker Sun and the freighter Bifrost, lying off Miami Beach in danger of being driven ashore, put out to sea in an attempt to ride out the gale.

(By the Associated Press.)

A radiogram to the Navy Department yesterday from its station at San Juan, Porto Rico, said a hurricane had demolished all land telegraph lines on the island, but that no serious damage had been done to the radio station. The dispatch contained no details as to other effects of the storm.

French Rule in Syria Rests On Battle About Damascus

Failure to Drive Insurgent Tribesmen From Gardens of the City Might Cause Collapse of Mandate Entrusted to Paris, Is Belief.

Damascus, Syria, July 26 (By A.
P.).—French rule in Syria and possession of this holy city is being decided upon the field of battle in the picturesque outskirts of Damascus.

On the outcome of the battle between 4,000 Syrian rebels, reinforced by Druses, and 10,000 French troops fighting in the gardens surrounding Damascus for the last five days, hinges not only the future of the city, but possibly the future of the French mandate over Syria.

Should the French army, under command of Gen. Gamelin, defeat the insurgents, the backbone of the Syrian revolution will be

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS, BEATEN IN PRIMARY, WILL RESIGN OFFICE

Mrs. Ferguson Defeated by Moody; Hopes to Quit by Nov. 1.

WILL AWAIT SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Calls Legislators Before Retiring to Approve Bonds and Decide Inquiries.

Austin, Tex., July 26 (By A. P.).
The political fortunes which raised Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson from a quiet home in Temple, Tex., to the governorship are soon to turn her footsteps back to domestic life.

Gov. Ferguson announced late today she would resign as a result of Saturday's primary in which Attorney General Dan Moody led her by more than 100,000 votes. She had promised to resign if Moody beat her one vote, and he had promised to resign if she led him by 25,000 votes.

Moody will be the next governor of Texas, nomination on the Democratic ticket being equivalent to election.

Calls a Special Session.

Simultaneously with her resignation announcement, which also carried with it withdrawal from any possible primary runoff with Moody, Gov. Ferguson called a special session of the legislature to meet September 13 to validate Texas district road bonds and to "investigate any department of the State government that the legislature may see fit to investigate."

Her resignation will be effective just as soon as this special session has disposed of these matters, the governor announced. She said she hoped to retire from office not later than November 1.

Moody early tonight relinquished his small majority over the five other candidates.

The vote stood: Moody, 366,954;
Ferguson, 252,425; Davidson, 110,
113; Zimmerman, 2,421; Johnston,
1,830; Wilman, 1,443.

Result is "Too Decisive."

"I have determined that the lead of the opposition is so decisive that I would be doing violence to my own interests as well as to the interests of the people were I to further insist upon my candidacy," said Mrs. Ferguson's statement.
"And I have no desire to further embroil the people in another campaign."

If the legislature acts with dispatch, Mrs. Ferguson will step out of office about 21 months after the people raised her to that position with an overwhelming vote. The usual custom of giving the incumbent a second term in this State is to be denied the first woman governor.

Prior to her decision the governor conferred with her husband, James E. Ferguson, who had done most of her campaigning, and their friends, one of whom was Joseph Weldon Bailey, of Dallas, former United States senator and staunch Ferguson supporter.

The validation of Texas road bonds, which had been declared invalid by the United States Supreme Court in the celebrated Archer case, was one of the principal issues in the primary campaign. Moody and Ferguson were the main contestants.

COL. GREEN IS INDICTED AS LIQUOR EMBEZZLER

Dry Official Who Served Rum to Guests Gives Bail of $5,000 at Frisco.

LOSES HIS COMPOSURE

San Francisco, Calif., July 26
(By A. P.).—A Federal grand jury here tonight returned an indictment against Col. Ned M. Green, deposed several days ago as prohibition administrator for Northern California and Nevada after being in session only three and one-half hours. The charges brought against Col. Green were that he had misappropriated government funds and that he had been guilty of misconduct in office.

All of the counts embodied in the indictment charge Green with the embezzlement of government property.

District Judge Frank H. Kerrigan, who accepted the jury's return, fixed the bail at $5,000. The amount immediately was posted by a representative of a bonding company.

Col. Green, while admitting that he drank and served liquor to guests in his room, declared he had not violated the Volstead law.
Col. Green's attitude of composure deserted him for a few moments while he was making bond.
He sat with bowed head and quivering hands. "Sign here," said his lawyer, handing over one of the bonds. Col. Green gritted his teeth, stuck out his fighting jaw and signed with a steady hand.

Queen Wilhelmina

Recovers Health

Beatenberg, Switzerland, July 26
(By A. P.).—Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, who has been visiting in Switzerland, left today for the Netherlands, fully recovered from her recent illness. Although she had planned to stay only two weeks in Switzerland her indisposition forced her to remain an additional week.

Slayer of 2 Officers

Shot Dead by Posse

Little Marais, Minn., July 26 (By A. P.).—Cornered in a thicket deep in the woods near here, John West-blade was killed today by posse men seeking him in connection with the death of two highway patrolmen.

Westblade opened fire on the posse as it approached his refuge a half mile from his farm, from which he fled last Friday after the patrolmen were shot down as they removed a sign he had erected on the side of the highway.

After a brief exchange Westblade fell dead. He is alleged to have set the fire that destroyed his farmhouse and orchard Friday.

French Maneuvers

Arouse the Germans

Berlin, July 26 (By A. P.).—
News that extensive French military maneuvers between the Forty-first and Forty-seventh divisions are planned in the Palatinate in September has evoked considerable resentment in Rhenish and other German quarters.

The general feeling of indignation has been enhanced by reports that considerable reinforcements will be called to the occupied area, including large contingents of negro troops.

It also is emphasized that a fort-night's maneuvers, involving the quartering of large bodies of troops throughout the country districts, will be detrimental to the necessary work of farmers and wine growers.

DWYER, CONVICTED AS RUM RING HEAD, GETS 2-YEAR TERM

$40,000,000 Syndicate
to Run Liquor Into U. S.
Was Charged.

COAST GUARD BRIBED, JURORS WERE TOLD

One Codefendant Held Guilty and 6 Others Released; Appeal Planned.

New York, July 26 (By A. P.).— William V. Dwyer, head of an alleged $40,000,000 rum-running syndicate, tonight was found guilty of conspiracy to violate the national liquor and customs law.

E. C. Cohron, one of seven others indicted with Dwyer, was also found guilty. The other six defendants were acquitted. Dwyer and Cohron were found guilty on only one of three counts of the indictment upon which they were tried.

The defendants acquitted were Arch M. Eversole, George Clyde, Walter Wiedner, James J. McCambridge, Edward Gallagher and William B. Maloney.

The jury reached an agreement after deliberations lasting since 11:45 o'clock this morning.

Imprisonment and Fine.

Federal Judge Julian W. Mack immediately after the verdict was returned sentenced Dwyer to the maximum penalty of two years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.
Stating that there was a degree of difference in the guilt of Dwyer and Cohron, Judge Mack then sentenced Cohron to two years in the penitentiary and a fine of $5,000. The judge refused to delay passing sentence despite the pleas of attorneys for the defendants.

Admission to bail for the convicted men was also denied by Judge Mack. He permitted them to go to their homes, accompanied by United States deputy marshals, however, after which they were taken to the Tombs prison to remain pending an appeal in their behalf.

The Dwyer conspiracy trial began on July 6. Two days were needed to pick jurors because talesmen not prejudiced against the prohibition act were hard to find. One defendant, Jack Kirsch, a "foreign agent" of the ring, pleaded guilty, and two others, Louis Maul and Harry E. Ralston, were discharged because of insufficient evidence during the trial.

Bribery Was Related.

Testimony of prosecution witnesses included bribing or attempting bribing of coast guardsmen, customs inspectors and prohibition enforcement men, the use of government cutters to land whisky, and intimidations of great power of protection in Washington. The prosecutor contended that the "Dwyer rum ring" operated a fleet of steamers, speed boats and marine garages,
and had a signal system with coast guard boats and a ticker service for tips on police activities. It was claimed whisky valued at $40,000, 000 had been smuggled into the United States between October, 1923, to June, 1926.

The trial was featured by the disappearance of Charles Augustus Smith, a government witness, during the noon recess on July 22, after he had been branded in court as a navy and wife deserter. He was later arrested on a bench warrant and held in $10,000 bail by the United States commissioner on a charge of perjury.

Arrested Last December.

Dwyer and twenty others were arrested December 3, 1925, on the specific charge of conspiring last July to bring 4,033 cases of whisky into the United States in the bunkers of the steamer Augusta.

SCHOOL REGULATION IS PUT INTO EFFECT BY MEXICAN REGIME

Calles Begins Inquiry Into the Letter Ending Catholic Church Services.

ARCHBISHOP, A SIGNER, MAY FACE PROSECUTION

Third Director of Religious Freedom League Seized; Fourth Is Named.

Mexico City, July 26 (By A. P.). Regulations providing for the constitutional prohibition of religious teaching in private schools went into effect today.

The Mexican government by officially publishing these regulations today, makes them automatically operative from the date of official publication.

(President Calles proclaimed the regulations last Friday. The rules prescribe that no minister of any religious cult may act as the director of or teacher in a private school. The schools are prohibited to have any chapels or other places of worship or to have anywhere any pictures, statues, images, stamps or objects of a religious nature. The secretary of education is empowered to close schools violating the regulations.)

Calles Strikes Back Again.

President Calles struck again today in the controversy between the Mexican government and the Catholic Church in Mexico.

Assuming upon his orders, the interior department started an inquiry into the pastoral letter, ordering cessation of all rites in Mexican Catholic churches after July 31, and announcing efforts to have antireligious provisions of the legislation amended.

Should the investigation determine the letter to be in violation of the constitution the department of justice would be notified with a view of calling the signers into the court. They included the Most Rev. Mora Del Rio, archbishop of Mexico, and seven other officials of the church in the republic.

League Directors Seized.

The league for the defense of religious freedom is fulfilling its threat to continue operations regardless of the number of members arrested. After two sets of directors had been arrested and sent to jail and subsequently released under bail for trial, the league appointed a third director, Luis Bertran, who, it was revealed today, is arrested Sunday.

The league immediately appointed a fourth director, but the names have been withheld, as it is known they will be arrested when the police ascertain their identity.

Outwardly the situation in the capital was tranquil today, but

Valuable Penguin Killed In Fight With Zoo Mates

Noah, of Australian Species, Dies After Keepers Rush to His Rescue in Birdhouse—Disliked Ever Since Arrival.

Bleeding profusely from wounds inflicted by two other penguins, "Noah," valuable Australian penguin at the Washington zoo, was rescued from the birdhouse yesterday by keepers, but later died as a result of his injuries. The death of "Noah" represents a severe loss to the park, according to Head Keeper William H. Blackburn.

A feud among the birds, brought to a climax by the recent hot weather, prompted the attack on "Noah." Ever since the penguin reached the zoo last winter his two fellow birds had regarded him with dislike. On one occasion, Mr. Blackburn noticed active symptoms of a fight, but believed it would be nothing serious.

Yesterday keepers heard a screaming noise and flapping of wings in the bird house. They ran there in time to see "Noah" defending himself against the other penguins, and apparently exhausted. As they separated the combatants, "Noah" received a final vicious beak thrust on the head. Efforts were made for more than an hour to revive the bird, but he died in spite of these attentions. Visitors to the zoo late yesterday missed "Noah" and learned of his death with real chagrin. The penguins, as Mr. Blackburn expressed it, are "attractive" to those who frequent the park and are invariably surrounded by an interested crowd. The curious, shifting walk of the birds—their serious aspect and absurdly short wings—their black and white plumage—all combine to give them the appearance of gentlemen in evening dress. They amuse, like caricatures of human beings.

Further, the loss of "Noah" is a severe financial handicap to the zoo. Mr. Blackburn pointed out that the expense of transportation from Australia, added to the actual worth of the bird will make the replacement of "Noah" a difficult problem for park authorities.

There were indications under the surface of increasing uneasiness and uncertainty in Catholic circles. President Calles' statement to the newspapers had been interpreted by this, for he reiterated in forceful manner the government's intention to enforce the regulations rigidly.

Missionaries Recalled.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 26 (By A. P.).—In compliance with the edict of the Mexican government banning the holding of religious services by foreigners after July 31, when the new law governing religious services becomes effective, all American-born missionaries of the Church of Jesus Christ, latter day saints, today were directed to leave the country.

Some 70 men and women are affected by the order, about half of them being in the interior of Mexico, while the remainder reside in the American side of the border, but cross the line at times to work among the natives. They have been instructed to cease their work on the Mexican side of the line.

MONTGOMERY WARD'S WIDOW DIES OF HEAT

Chicago Woman, 70, Noted for Philanthropies Was Prostrated on Trip.

Chicago, July 26 (By A. P.).—Mrs. A. Montgomery Ward, widow of Chicago's pioneer mail order store, died today of heat prostration on a trip to the northwestern states. She was 70 years old and had been ill for several days.

Mrs. Ward returned here from Pasadena, Calif., only last night. She chose the southern route to avoid the higher altitudes of the northern route, but by so doing she encountered excessive heat which cost her life.

She was prostrated by the heat, which at one point of the return journey reached 110 degrees.

One daughter, Marjorie, who accompanied her mother home from Pasadena, survives. A sister, Mrs. George R. Thorne, died a year ago. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

RITES FOR D. W. BROBST.

Services Held at Lee's Chapel, With Burial in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Funeral services for Daniel W. Brobst, who died at his residence, 1826 Vernon street northwest, Saturday, were held yesterday afternoon at the undertaking chapel of J. William Lee's Sons, 332 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Burial was at Rock Creek cemetery. Associates of Mr. Brobst at the civil service commission were pallbearers. He was an assistant chief of the division of appointments of the commission.

Mr. Brobst was a native of Indiana and passed his early life in newspaper work in the middle West. He entered service of the government printing office in 1894 and was transferred to the civil service commission in 1902 where he remained until his death. He was 58 years old. Mr. Brobst is survived by his wife, Mrs. Frances Stonestree Brobst.

CHARLES H. CLARK FUNERAL.

Services to Be Held Tomorrow for Retired Merchant.

Funeral services for Charles H. Clark, who died at his residence, 1115 Massachusetts avenue northwest, Saturday, will be held at 9 o'clock and at St. Patrick's church at 9:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Mr. Clark was 63 years old and had retired from his hardware business at 811 H street northeast, a short while before his death. He was a native of Washington and was one of the oldest members of the Washington lodge of the Elks.

Surviving Mr. Clark are his wife, Mrs. Mary Hines Clark; five daughters, Mrs. Joseph A. Hayden, Mrs. Michael M. Doyle, Sister Mary Cecilia, of the Georgetown Visitation convent, and Miss Helen C. Clark, all of this city, and Mrs. Thomas F. Carroll, of Hampton, Va., and two sons, Charles H. Clark, Jr., and Bernard A. Clark, both of this city.

Damage Suit Withdrawn.

Charles E. Cabell, a minor, of Alexandria, Va., who sued A. W. Lee, 1336 New York avenue northwest, for $5,000 damages for alleged personal injuries, dismissed his suit yesterday in circuit court through Attorney Mackall & Mackall. The plaintiff charged that the defendant's automobile collided with a bicycle he was riding in Arlington county, July 29, last.

MOULTON WILL SEEK COURT AID TO FORCE PAYING PENSION FEE

Plans to Apply for Injunction Against Firemen and Police Breaking Contract.

POWER OF ATTORNEY IS TAKEN AWAY BY 18

16 Renew It and Attorney Says He Has a Lien on Checks to All Signers.

Hosea B. Moulton, 83-year-old attorney, who made an agreement with 86 men and women whereby he was to receive a 33 1-3 per cent fee for putting a bill through Congress, announced yesterday that he was going to apply for an injunction to prevent any of them from breaking their compact with him.

Eighteen of the 86 thus far have revoked the power of attorney they gave Mr. Moulton. It was revealed yesterday by Maj. J. R. Lusby, District disbursing officer. Sixteen, he said, have given him anew the power of attorney.

The bill which Mr. Moulton put through Congress authorized the payment of $68,425.06 to 350 retired policemen and firemen or their widows and children. This sum represented money that had been withheld between 1911 and 1915, when there was a deficit in the fund from which the retirement money was derived.

Lien on All Checks.

Mr. Moulton said yesterday that the 86 beneficiaries under the bill not only gave him the power of attorney to collect for them, but signed a contract giving him a lien on all checks. This contract, he said, was absolutely binding.

When Maj. Lusby, the disbursing officer, learned that some of the beneficiaries had complained that the 33 1-3 per cent fee which Mr. Moulton asked, was too much, he announced that he would give everybody a chance to revoke the power of attorney they had given Mr. Moulton.

The eighteen who thus far have revoked this power automatically nullified the contract. Mr. Moulton has the right to collect their checks. The checks were turned over to them, and it was left to them to settle with Mr. Moulton with respect to his fee.

The sixteen who renewed the power of attorney signed by their action that they wanted him to get their checks, deduct his 33 1-3 per cent fee, and give the remainder to them.

Injunction Is Hoped For.

Mr. Moulton hopes to get an injunction, which would compel Maj. Lusby to hold up the checks until he could establish his right to his 33 1-3 per cent fee.

The venerable attorney was much surprised and hurt yesterday by the publicity given his agreement with the pensioners. In the first place, he said, the pensioners had come to him; he had not gone to them. They had been trying for years to get Congress to give them the money, he said, and their chance of getting it seemed hopeless. Then they asked him to work for them, and he consented. Some of them, he said, wanted to give him a 50 per cent fee, but he decided that 33 1-3 per cent would be enough.

The money, Mr. Moulton said,

ENVOY RECALLED

DON JUAN RIANO, Spanish Ambassador, who will be succeeded by Don Alejandro Padilla, minister to Portugal.

represented only a moral obligation; not a legal obligation. This, he said, was what made his work in obtaining it so difficult. Members of Congress, he said, wanted to know why the money had not been authorized ten years before. They contended, he said, that if the government felt that it was bound to pay the money, it would have done so long ago.

"For nearly three years I devoted my time and labor to getting the bill passed," Mr. Moulton said yesterday. "It took more of my time than any other one thing. What I asked for doing it was no more than any attorney would ask."

When he agreed to work for passage of the bill, Mr. Moulton said, it was with the understanding that all 350 of the pensioners would sign the agreement to pay him 33 1-3 per cent. Some of them, he said, refused to sign because they knew that they could get the benefit of his labors without paying anything. Others, he said, could not be found.

others demanded a special session of the legislature to validate these bonds.

The man who will succeed Mrs. Ferguson upon her resignation is Lieut. Barry Miller, an attorney of Dallas, and a Ferguson supporter. He and the Fergusons fought the Ku Klux Klan.

Vote Exceeds Estimate.

The total vote on returns was 735,186, which is at least 35,000 votes above the Texas election bureau's prediction of the total.

A run-off will be necessary in the attorney general's and treasurer's races.

All incumbent Democratic delegates to the House of Representatives appeared to have been renominated. In at least one Democratic Congressional race the wet and dry issue was at stake, with a resulting dry victory. Congressman Daniel E. Garrett, of Houston, has a majority of more than 20,000 over Harry Gerlach of Houston, who ran on a wet platform.

The only Republican representative, Harry M. Wurzbach, of Seguin, was renominated over his opponent, Fred Kneisch. Kneisch was backed by the "regular" faction, led by National Committeeman R. B. Creager, who was fighting Wurzbach.

Moody's Republican opponent will be Col. H. H. Haines, of Houston, who defeated E. P. Scott, of Corpus Christi. Returns from 118 counties, including 67 complete, gave Haines 7,047 and Scott 2,927.

AMBASSADOR RIANO, DEAN HERE, RECALLED TO SPAIN

In Service Since 1899; May Remain in America, Friends Believe.

SUCCESSOR IS SELECTED

(By the Associated Press.)

The last of the wartime Ambassadors in Washington, Don Juan Riano, dean of the diplomatic corps, has been recalled by the Spanish government, which has offered him a post in the privy council. He will be succeeded here by Don Alejandro Padilla, present Spanish minister to Portugal.

Ambassador Riano's recall will make Baron de Cartier, Belgian Ambassador here since 1920, the ranking Washington diplomat in length of service.

The Spanish Ambassador's transfer from Washington, although rumored from time to time, caused surprise among his colleagues and friends. Prior to the announcement of his retirement yesterday, it had been reported that he had been offered both the Paris and Lisbon posts, but had declined to accept them because he preferred duty here.

Ambassador Riano has reached no decision as to his future. The privy councilship offer was received several days ago, he said, but is still "under consideration."

Owing to his long service in Washington, which began in 1899, on the restoration of diplomatic relations with Spain, it would not surprise his friends here if he relinquished public office entirely and remained in this country. Engaging possibly in literary or commercial life. His wife was born in the United States.

TESTS SEPTEMBER 8 FOR SCHOOL BERTHS

Examinations to Be Held for Instructor, Census Enumerators and Stenographers.

Examinations to obtain a list of eligibles for position of census enumerator in Divisions I to IX of the District public schools, and for domestic art and science instructor in elementary schools of the same divisions will be held in Franklin school the morning of September 8. It was announced yesterday.

The minimum salary of census enumerators is $1,400, and the maximum $2,000. The minimum salary of domestic art and science instructors is $1,400 and the maximum $2,200. The examinations will be both written and oral, and the domestic science examination will include a practical test the day following.

Written examinations to obtain a list of eligibles for positions of stenographer for Divisions I to IX will be held in Central High school the morning of September 8, and oral examinations, which will form part of the whole, in Franklin school in the afternoon. The minimum salary for these positions is $1,320 and the maximum $1,680.

10,000 votes, which their officials declared was only a small fraction of the Republican vote which will be registered in the general election. In the last election 300,000 votes were cast for Dr. George Butte, Republican candidate for governor.

Moody's Republican opponent will be Col. H. H. Haines, of Houston, who defeated E. P. Scott, of Corpus Christi. Returns from 118 counties, including 67 complete, gave Haines 7,047 and Scott 2,927.

ROBERT T. LINCOLN, SON OF PRESIDENT, DIES AT AGE OF 83

Former War Secretary and Envoy to Britain Passes Away in His Sleep.

RELATIVES WERE NEAR ON ESTATE IN VERMONT

Simple Funeral Service Set for Wednesday; Body in Tomb in Illinois.

Manchester, Vt., July 26 (By A. P.).—Robert Todd Lincoln, eldest son of President Abraham Lincoln and the last surviving member of the civil war President's immediate family, is dead. He passed away in his sleep at his summer home, Hillside, early today. Had he lived until August 1 he would have been 84 years old.

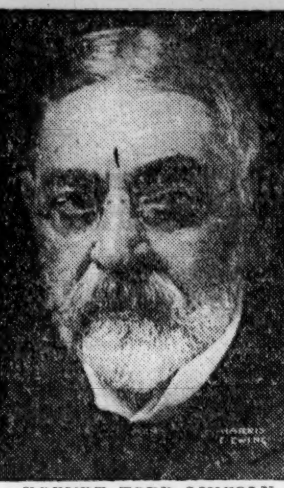

Although he never sought public office he rose to high position in both public life and the business world. For an automobile ride, his war under two Presidents, and was United States Minister to Great Britain under President Harrison. He served for years as counsel for the Pullman company, became president, and later chairman of the board of directors.

Advancing age and declining health caused Mr. Lincoln to retire entirely from business activity between two and three years ago. This year his health has been feeble and since he came to his summer home last May he had ventured out of doors but once each day and then only for an automobile ride. His health within recent weeks had not been noticeably poorer, however, and he took his customary ride yesterday, but this morning when servants went to awaken him, they found him dead.

Mrs. Lincoln, two daughters and three grandchildren survive him. Mrs. Lincoln and two of his grandchildren, Mary Lincoln Beckwith and Robert Todd Lincoln Beckwith, were at his summer home here when he passed away. Mrs. F. E. Johnson, daughter of Mr. Lincoln, and mother of the children, was said to be in Washington. Mrs. Charles Isham, his other daughter, is passing the summer at her home here. His third grandchild is Lincoln Isham, of New York.

Mr. Lincoln first came to Manchester 62 years ago, long before this Vermont village won fame as an exclusive summer resort. After various visits he bought several hundred acres of mountain and valley land in 1902, and developed the estate that he had made his summer home ever since.

Mr. Lincoln was an enthusiastic amateur astronomer and passed many hours in the observatory which he built on his estate. The property included gardens, lawns and woodland.

A simple funeral service will be held at the summer home here on Wednesday. Members of the family said it would be distinctly private. The body will be placed in the vault at Delwood cemetery, Manchester, and later will be taken to Springfield, Ill., for interment in the family tomb.

Fate and circumstance so united that Robert Todd Lincoln, last of the Great Emancipator's immediate family to bear the name, was present at the assassination of two American Presidents and within sound of the shots that mortally wounded a third.

When young Lincoln was graduated from Harvard in 1864, his father granted his request to enter the army. As a captain and member of General Grant's staff, he witnessed the surrender of General Lee at Appomattox.

Hurrying to Washington, the captain arrived there on April 14 and gave his father the first definite news of the surrender. He was in Ford's theater when John Wilkes Booth shot and fatally wounded the President.

Later, as Secretary of War in President Garfield's Cabinet, he was supposed to accompany the chief executive on a trip to the New England States, July 2, 1881, but a last minute development prevented. He went to the station to explain, arriving just as Guitau shot Garfield.

Stood Near McKinley.

Lincoln was among the many prominent men invited to the Buffalo exposition in 1901 and was nearby September 6 when Leon Czolgosz, an anarchist, fired twice at President William McKinley from close range, one of the bullets causing the executive's death eight days later.

Robert was Abraham Lincoln's first child, born August 1, 1843, at Springfield, Ill. Before attending Harvard he was a student in the University of Illinois and Philip Academy, Exeter, N. H.

He preferred the practice of law to politics. He was mentioned for the Presidency, but discouraged of foris in his behalf.

His retiring nature sometime made it appear to many that he was taciturn, but his close friends described him as a "warm-hearted, lovable, charming gentleman." He was a delightful conversationalist, a great raconteur, and if he knew his companions well, he would talk without reserve.

Was Married in 1868.

On September 24, 1868, he married Miss Mary Harlan, daughter of James Harlan, who served a senator from Iowa. Three children were born to them, two girls and a boy, Jack Lincoln, who died while attending school in France.

The murder of his father threw upon Lincoln the management of affairs of the family. He was admitted to membership in a leading law firm of Chicago.

Lincoln continued the practice of law until he was called to Washington by President Garfield, in 1881, to be Secretary of War. He served in this position four years under President Garfield and President Arthur, and then returned to his profession.

10,000 Lincoln Letters To Be Released in 1947

Twenty-one years hence—or on July 26, 1947—Lincoln letters of great historical importance, now sealed and under lock in the Library of Congress, will be opened for public inspection as the result of the death yesterday at Manchester, Vt., of Robert Todd Lincoln, who was the only surviving son of the Civil war President.

More than 10,000 letters comprise the collection which has been stored for safe keeping in the manuscript division of the library, to which the papers constituting this rich historical mine was delivered by Robert Todd Lincoln about five years ago.

Several years after placing the collection in the library Mr. Lincoln, in January, 1923, executed an agreement by which he presented the papers, not to the library, but to the government of the United States, to be kept in the library, under lock and key without access to the historians until 21 years after the donor's death.

The collection comprises letters both to and from President Lincoln. Also drafts of his state papers, pamphlets and newspaper clippings which belonged to President Lincoln.

FORD AND CHILD TO PAY
VISITS TO CAMP TODAY

President Clears Up Mail
Without Aid of Either Secretary.

Paul Smiths N. Y., July 26 (By A. P.).—The position of President Coolidge in refusing to comment on political conditions in other countries or on the settlements of foreign war-time debts to this country was emphasized today, when a statement was issued at the executive offices asserting that he "has made no statement and authorized no interview concerning our foreign debts."

The statement was made after The Syracuse Herald, in a dispatch from a Representative who had come here to see Mr. Coolidge, had indicated that the President now regarded trade agreements as the logical recourse for an adjustment of foreign debts.

"The President has made no statement," the official announcement said, "and authorized no interview concerning our foreign debts or trade agreements. Any statement to the contrary is without foundation. He did remark to a social visitor that foreign debtors could pay their debts in part from foreign trade. He has not mentioned trade agreements."

Silent on Paris Events.

Since Mr. Coolidge came to the Adirondacks he has maintained silence on the political situation in France, holding that it would be improper for him to discuss the affairs of another country. He also has refrained from entering the discussion which recently developed between British officials and officials of the United States Treasury concerning the funds borrowed by England from this country during the war and their uses.

The practice of attending to government business as he does in Washington was continued today by the President, who went to the summer executive offices after the departure for the West coast of Secretary Wilbur, of the Navy Department, who had been a week-end guest.

A strict adherence to his business schedule was regarded as somewhat probable the next few days, however, as more visitors are to arrive tomorrow when Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford of Detroit, and Richard W. Child, former Ambassador to Italy, will come to White Pine camp to be guests for several days.

Calls Are Social Ones.

The son of the automobile manufacturer will come by private railroad car from Michigan, while at the same time Mr. Child will arrive from Pennsylvania on his way to a Northern resort. Both visits are said to be social in character. If Mr. Ford is to discuss the proposed easing of the Muscle Shoals power properties in Alabama or other questions of government, it has not been indicated by officials, while

Blush When Girl Speaks Is Held No Sign of Guilt

Munich, Bavaria, July 26 (By A. P.).—Blushing when spoken to by a good looking girl on the street is not sufficient evidence to show guilt of a crime on the part of an unsophisticated young man, the Munich court of appeals has ruled.

Lola Spring, a typist out shopping for her employer, lost a 50-mark bill. Retracing her steps she accosted Emil Junge, the first person met, and asked him whether he had found the money. Junge stammered that he had not. His face reddened. So Lola had him arrested.

Junge maintained that he had not found any money. He blushed, he said, because he was naturally a shy boy, but the municipal court fined him 100 marks. Junge's counsel appealed, and the higher court held that while blushing nowadays is a rare phenomenon and might arouse suspicion it is not as yet accepted as legal evidence of guilt.

Mr. Child is said to be coming in response to an invitation from the President given before Mr. Coolidge left Washington to be his guest if he should be in this vicinity this summer.

Going to the executive offices soon after 9 o'clock this morning, Mr. Coolidge remained there until noon attending to administrative matters. He found himself without the services of either Everett Sanders, secretary to the President, or Edward T. Clark, personal secretary, as the former was confined to his bed by illness and the latter had been called to Boston by the death of a relative.

Before leaving for White Pine camp at noon, Mr. Coolidge went to Paul Smith's hotel, 100 yards from the executive offices, and called upon Mr. Sanders, whose indisposition was described as not serious.

In the afternoon he again returned to the executive offices and when he left for White Pine camp for dinner his desk was clear of mail and departmental business from Washington.

4 GO ON TRIAL TODAY IN TIA JUANA DEATHS

Mexicans Accused of Causing Suicide of Family by Assaulting Girls.

San Diego, Calif., July 26 (By A. P.).—Trial of four men on charges arising out of the alleged criminal assaults made on two American girls during a visit to Tia Juana, Mexico, several months ago, is scheduled to start in the border town tomorrow.

Included among the accused men are Zenaldo Llanos, former chief of police, and Luis Amador, saloon owner.

Judge S. Urias is to preside at the trial and the fate of the four prisoners will be decided by a jury selected tonight.

The two girls, with their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Petet, who came to California from a suburb of Kansas City, made a several days' visit to Tia Juana, during which the girls are alleged to have been drugged and later assaulted.

After returning to San Diego, the family committed suicide by turning on the gas in their home.

G. B. SHAW SLAMS GOVERNMENT FOR ITS BROADCASTING BAN

It Is Wonderful for Doing Things It Does Not Intend to Do, He Declares.

ADVISES LABOR PARTY
TO PREPARE TO GOVERN

Author-Socialist Given Great Ovation at Celebration of 70th Birthday.

London, July 26 (By A. P.).—None of the smaller rooms in the house of parliament, where it was planned to observe his anniversary, was large enough to accommodate Bernard Shaw's seventieth birthday party tonight, except, perhaps the house of commons itself, and as the members could hardly be expected to adjourn their debate on the national coal strike, G. B. S.'s friends and admirers, headed by the former labor premier, Ramsay MacDonald, gathered at the Metropole hotel.

Mr. MacDonald, with Mr. and Mrs. Shaw seated on either side of him, presented the guest of honor to a distinguished company of labor movement leaders, literary figures and intellectuals. Mr. MacDonald voiced a strong protest against the British government's refusal to permit Mr. Shaw's speech to be broadcast unless a pledge was given that it would not be controversial on public topics.

Speaking with marked vigor and vitality, after a great ovation, G. B. S. said that the dreadful fate of being treated as a great man seemed about to overtake him.

"The labor party," he went on, "has discovered the secret that there are no great men and no great nations. All that kind of humbug was left to the nineteenth century, where it properly belongs. Get rid of the great men and you will get rid of the great nations, and then perhaps we shall all be happy."

Early in his speech Mr. Shaw referred to the fact that his remarks were not being broadcast. Ramsay MacDonald had explained how the British broadcasting company desired to cancel its musical program in order to get Shaw on the air, but government permission was not forthcoming unless Mr. MacDonald gave a guarantee that the speech would not be controversial.

"I am willing to stand ball for Bernard Shaw any day at Bow street," London's best known police station—"but never at Downing street," said Mr. MacDonald, amid laughter.

"The right of free speech is not the right to state that there are milestones on the road to Dover, but the right of speaking controversially. It is the basis of all parliamentary governments, and the present British government does not even know that."

Imagines Trotsky Comment.

Mr. Shaw imagined Trotsky saying with great emphasis: "You talk of your parliamentary institutions and freedom of speech, but the very moment any very serious use is made of those things the property classes throw over those institutions."

He declared that the British government on this occasion was doing everything in its power to bear out Trotsky's assertions, adding, "as indeed it is almost unintentionally doing."

His listeners applauded with delight as he followed this with the typical Shavian shaft: "It is a wonderful government for doing the things it does not intend to do and the very last thing it would do if it knew what it were doing."

G. B. S. smilingly remarked that he would dearly like to believe that the broadcasting ban meant he was one person who could terrify the British government into putting the muzzle on. But it was impossible to believe it.

Advise Labor Party.

With prominent laborites as his hosts, he promptly devoted himself to the aspects of domestic politics in this country, advising the labor party to work out the technique of government so that it might be ready to take over the administration after the next general election, which he hoped would not make him feel very much holier than in his whole 70 years.

The menu of the dinner made no concessions to his vegetarian diet, necessitating the rejection by him of several courses.

Among the 150 attending were Lord Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Webb, T. P. O'Connor, J. H. Thomas, Arthur Henderson, John Robert Clynes, Ben Tillet, John Galsworthy, Margaret Bondfield and Balfort Bax, one of Shaw's earliest socialist comrades.

MacMillan Reaches Greenland.

Wollaston, Mass., July 26 (By A. P.).—The schooner Bowdoin and Sachem of the MacMillan-Field seum expedition reached the southern coast of Greenland Friday. "All well and happy," read a message from the explorer.

STAYTON DECLARES READINESS TO BACK LEVIATHAN CHARGE

Inform O'Connor He Has Evidence of Liquor Sales on Vessel.

DENIES ANY INTENT TO CRITICIZE BOARD

Holds Statement Made to Show Dry Law Cannot Be Enforced.

(By Associated Press.)
W. H. Stayton, head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, informed Chairman O'Connor of the Shipping Board yesterday that he was prepared to substantiate with letters and testimony his charge that liquor is sold on the Leviathan.

Insisting that he had no thought of criticizing any member of the board, but, on the contrary, sought to show that "in spite of honest efforts of able men, your board, along with many officials in other departments, was the victim of a cancerous law," Stayton said:

"If you decide to investigate the matter, I will gladly cooperate with you and produce all the letters and testimony I have."

Cites British Isles.

In a letter to the Shipping Board chairman, Stayton declared the prohibition law could not be enforced on land or sea, and continued:

"How can we expect the employees of the Leviathan to either respect or obey the law? They see alongside them a Cunard liner (British flag) going out of New York. They know that the Constitution forbids the presence of intoxicating beverages on that ship in our waters. They know that the Supreme Court of the United States has declared that the presence of such liquors on the Cunard was unlawful and unconstitutional. They know that in spite of this the Cunard is continuing to permit to bring the stuff into our ports and then sell it at sea to the profit of the British owners and the advantage of the British taxpayer. And they know that the American shipowner is penalized and discriminated against because he is American and not British, and he is not permitted to make the profit the British makes, nor to aid his fellow taxpayer."

Says Law in Disrepute.

"A system which makes such discriminations and winks at constitutional violations in favor of the British can not be expected to appeal to those who know of Lexington and Concord."

As an operator of vessels under the Shipping Board, Stayton said that he personally had known of the endeavor of American officials to enforce this unenforceable law. He pointed to press accounts of the suspension of prohibition Administrator Green at San Francisco, of charges of bribery against coast guards, of increased arrests in the District of Columbia, and of an increase in deaths from alcoholism among Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. policy holders to support his contention that "however able, honest and determined government officials may be, the people of the United States will refuse to respect a disreputable law."

Band Is Defended
By Army Musicians

"More trained band musicians mean better band music," was the tenor of an answer of army bandmen yesterday to an official statement last week that Lieut. Comdr. John Philip Sousa, noted band leader, would suggest adaptation of the British guards' band instrumentation for U. S. army bands.

Admitting the excellence of the Coldstreams, Grenadiers and other bands of the Household brigade, bandmen explained that army bands can not be expected to give the same results under handicaps of limited personnel, and that the Army band with a larger number of pieces compares favorably with any foreign military musical organization.

Family Killed, Squatter Seeks Title to Ranch

Having lost his family in the Arizona desert, Evan Cox, pioneer squatter, feels that he has paid in full for his land and is seeking executive dispensation which will give him clear title to it. Senator Cameron, of Arizona, is assisting him.

Cox, under the law, has another year to serve on the land before it becomes his own. He has already worked it for two years, waiting for the water to be turned on "Coolidge dam."

His homestead is 60 miles from civilization. One day he left for supplies. In his absence his wife was bitten by a snake. She contemplated the future of her two small children as death spread rapidly through her body, and finally decided to kill them as well as herself. The tragedy awaited Cox upon his return.

AIR ACTIVITY STUDY BEGUN BY WARNER

Assistant Secretary of Navy to Gain First-Hand Knowledge.

First-hand study of the physical condition of naval flying equipment, manufacturing plants and activities was begun yesterday by Assistant Secretary Warner, in charge of naval aviation, when he flew to Hampton Roads, Va., studied the station there and returned to Washington preparatory to flying to Philadelphia today.

Assistant Secretary Warner's inspection will include every naval air station and manufacturing plant in the country and will include also a first-hand study of naval air equipment afloat. He will fly to the various stations in the East, but whether he will fly to the Pacific coast has not been decided. He will visit New York, Boston, Lakehurst, Cleveland, Detroit, Buffalo, Pensacola, San Diego, Los Angeles and Seattle.

Lieut. George T. Cuddihy, who piloted the plane to Hampton Roads and back yesterday, will pilot the naval air chief's plane to other stations.

Court Refuses Return Of Seized Rail Stock

Although the transfer of ten shares of stock of the Erie railroad from German ownership to Jacques Krilj and Zoon, of Amsterdam, Holland, took place before enactment of the trading with the enemy act, Chief Justice Walter I. McCoy, of the District Supreme court, yesterday refused the petition of the Hollanders for an order on the alien property custodian for a return to them of the stock.

The stock had been seized by the government as really enemy owned, and the transfer to the Hollanders was held a dummy transaction to conceal the real enemy ownership. Several millions of dollars worth of other stocks and bonds were said to be held by the alien property custodian under much the same conditions. The Dutch claimants of the Erie stock noted an appeal when Justice McCoy handed down his decision.

Treasury to Borrow For September Bills

The government will be compelled to borrow a large sum of money to meet its obligations due September 30, it was announced at the Treasury yesterday. The form of securities which will be sold to cover the loan has not been determined upon, it was said.

No particular significance attaches to the Treasury announcement, except that it is a reversion to the practice which has been followed every quarter since the period of the war with the single exception of July 1, of this year, when sufficient money was in the Treasury to meet all obligations without any borrowing. Although another installment of income taxes is due September 15, it was stated that the collections will not be of sufficient volume to avoid borrowings.

PRESIDENT'S POWER TO END APPOINTEE'S TERM IS HELD LEGAL

PLEA TO FORCE ISSUE OF COMMISSION DENIED

Justice Hoehling Refuses Mandamus Against Secretary in Farrall Case.

In spite of formal nomination and confirmation by the Senate, the President may end a Federal appointee's term in office by withholding his formal commission and the President's initials on a telegram of notification of the expiration of the officer's term is sufficient to meet legal requirements.

That was the ruling yesterday of Justice Hoehling in District circuit court in refusing to mandamus Secretary of the Interior to issue a formal commission to Lannes L. Farrall, as register of the Federal land office at Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. Farrall was nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate and given a recess appointment while awaiting action by the Senate. Although that body confirmed the appointment before it adjourned last session, Secretary Work did not forward to President Coolidge Farrall's commission for signature and the commission was withheld for reasons not divulged in the court proceedings concluded yesterday.

Gaston to Seek Governorship in Bay State, Democrats' Chairman Announces.

Boston, July 26 (By A. P.).—Formal announcement of their respective candidacies for the Democratic nomination of governor and United States senator in the September primaries was made by Col. William A. Gaston and former Senator David I. Walsh through Charles H. McGlue, chairman of the Democratic State committee.

Chairman McGlue announced that the candidates had authorized him to begin immediate circulation of their papers following a conference late today. No formal statement was expected at this time, he said, adding that the State committee was not at work on the remainder of the ticket, which is as yet undecided.

Andrews' Mission Nearly Completed

London, July 26 (By A. P.).—The conference between British officials and the American prohibition enforcement delegation under Brig. Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews is nearing its final stages, and its conclusion may be announced tomorrow. In that event Gen. Andrews will go to Paris for a few days before returning to the United States.

Today's Girl

"Soot and grime in 'the biggest city' makes it hard for girls of today to have dewily fresh, immaculate complexions," says Miss Ann Wharton, 93 Morningside Drive, New York City. "I couldn't do it at all without the rich, creamy lather of Black and White Skin Soap, as necessary in my young life as food and clothes! I use it for beauty-giving facials, and for my bath, too, because it cleanses and softens my skin luxuriously, and keeps it from feeling dry and drawn, or looking harsh and rough."

Black and White Soap, almost lotion-like in its action, helps the skin retain the natural oils which nourish the pores and glands. You can get the convenient 25c cakes from dealers everywhere who are selling and recommending the Black and White Beauty Creations.

Lieutenant Commander Rosen-dahl, flight commander, expressed satisfaction over the ship's behavior.

CHILE TO PROTEST HERE ON LASSITER'S MOTION

Not Even Arbitrator Himself Was Empowered to Make Such Statement, Is View.

GENERAL REACHES U. S.

Santiago, Chile, July 26 (By A. P.).—The Chilean minister of foreign relations has sent instructions to the Chilean ambassador at Washington requesting him to present to the arbitrator, President Coolidge, a vigorous protest against the recent motion of Gen. William Lassiter declaring that a plebiscite in Tacna-Arica was impractical at present.

The protest will argue that not even the arbitrator himself was empowered to make such a declaration, and much less Gen. Lassiter, who only had those powers that had been delegated unto him. It is also understood that a contention will be made that, since all armed forces within the territories in dispute were under orders of the plebiscitary commission, even if unfavorable conditions existed, Gen. Lassiter did not have the right to declare the plebiscite impractical until all means at his disposal had been exhausted for improving the situation.

Furthermore, the protest will include arguments and data presented by Augustin Edwards, the Chilean delegate, before the commission designed to refute the facts on which Gen. Lassiter based his resolution against an immediate plebiscite.

New York, July 26 (By A. P.).—Settlement of the Tacna-Arica dispute through American mediation still is possible, William Miller Collier, Ambassador to Chile, said today on his arrival from Santiago on vacation.

"I left Santiago nineteen days ago," Mr. Collier said, "and therefore am uninforming as to recent developments in the Tacna-Arica matter. At that time, however, despite Chile's previous formal declaration that the good offices of the United States had been unavailable, there was in political as well as business circles, a manifestation of strong, sincere and very general desire to renew the efforts to settle the matter in this way. I believe that eventually this will succeed. There is no reason to be discouraged by the negotiations up to date."

LET us today turn our attention to the arrangement, or rearrangement, of the kitchen in which those of us who are cook and also lady of the house spend so large a share of our time. A reader who is about to "do over" the kitchen in which, in her own words, she reigns and lives a large part of her day, has asked that we take up the subject of well-arranged kitchens and suggest just how this room may be made most profitably be equipped.

Much of the comfort and happiness of the woman to whom the kitchen is a workshop depends on

What is Real Vinegar

Yes—what does real vinegar taste like? If Heinz makes it, then it tastes like real vinegar—because it is real vinegar—it has the true vinegar flavor—something more than mere sourness.

Long aging in the wood brings out the ripe mellowness of this true vinegar flavor which enlivens other flavors and adds a zest of its own. Good vinegar cannot be hurried.

It helps a lot in making good salad dressing to use good vinegar—Heinz Vinegar.

the floor, that the back need not break during the dishwashing process. Better still, let the sink be set at a height that is most agreeable to the woman who is to use it, for we are not all cut after the same pattern.

If the sink is under the window, either porcelain or wooden shelves may be added at either side of it, giving a long working space, adding to the convenience of this general dishwashing and adding to the general efficient appearance of the room as well. A kitchen table, preferably porcelain, should be on casters with a wall space assigned to it for its habitation and not in use. Our stove will depend upon the size of our purse at the moment probably, but let us hope that the purse will be sufficiently indulgent and sizeable to afford a stove with lasting qualities, and a sound mechanical construction, for stoves are rather expensive luxuries when it comes to frequent replacement, and a good one is so much more satisfactory at all times than one that is just so-so. Personally the high oven stove is always my idea of the first choice, others may disagree, but one's back is due to a little consideration, especially if the family is a large one and the baking apt to be heavy. If a stove with an oven located below the cooking top is chosen, avoid the three-burner top if possible, for three burners are a hindrance when dinner is being prepared and a small stove can try the patience of a cook beyond anything imaginable. An oven regulator can come to be a great boon to the lady of the house when she has accustomed herself to its operation, and a pilot light for lighting the burners in place of the inevitable match needs no commendation.

As to shelf space, built in cupboards, shelves and storage space of all sorts are, in my opinion, the splendid thing to have. If a kitchen cabinet is to be used, one corner of the room, regardless of the cabinet, may well be devoted to a generous cupboard, inclosed, with shelves and drawers for linen, cookbooks, paraffin paper, shelf paper, files of recipes, flower bowls, twine, rubber gloves, and a hundred and one whatnots. The kitchen cabinet can be devoted to the things for which it was designed, and the food-stuffs of the kitchen kept in it. If all cupboards are to be built, and one may choose anything they wish, a corner cupboard, with glass doors, or even a red for a gingham curtain, will add to the charm of the kitchen when dainty china graces the shelves. And under the cabinet, with a high-backed bench shielding it from the rest of the kitchen, can almost must, be a long, narrow table, with a bench on the other side secured to the wall, a breakfast

If there are windows, make the most of them, and if possible have the sink, which we anticipate will be of white enamel, just under them and in height at least a yard above nook. Need we say that the steps saved the woman who will alone pay for its construction. If there is an extra, or even a small high window in the kitchen slightly away from the working end of the room, it is an ideal spot under which to arrange this nook. But for cookless homemakers may we say that half the day's work may be removed with the aid of this simple arrangement. The children's lunches may be served here with half the effort that setting the dining room table would require, and the nook will add decidedly to the charm of appearance of this kitchen that is to be a pleasant workshop. For the remainder, a chair or stool, a serviceable light over the sink, a soft color on the wall, either soft green as we have and greatly enjoy here at the studio, or buff, gray, cream or blue, little ruffled gingham curtains over the window, and a sturdy little plant that will nod on the sill in the breeze when there is one. Let the linoleum be plain, or plainly checked (the loud ones are a deadly bore in a little while), and pick out the floor covering and the curtains at the same time to insure their harmony. Keep the linoleum waxed, to save your own time and effort, and to keep it splendid to gaze upon. And, oh yes, for the can of cleanser, the sapolin, soap and brushes, have a little box with a door just over the sink, and near it a bit of a shelf for the clock.

And now again the question—our evening meal. It is Tuesday, and hot, and though to market we must undoubtedly go, let us buy for a light repast, and avoid as far as we can the business of elaborate preparation.

In buying the corn for which our menu calls, buy an extra ear or so and also a small box of lima beans. Tomorrow, succotash. Beets, so small and delicious at this time, may be bought in twice the quantity that it needs for tonight, and they may be served with hardboiled chopped egg as a salad tomorrow night, or even creamed, or pickled.

MENU.

Radishes Sliced Cucumber
Hamburger en Casserole
Buttered Beets Fresh Corn
Riced Potatoes
Dressed Lettuce
Iced Watermelon
Tea

The cucumbers are to be soaked as usual in salted water in the ice box and this time served with a bit of French dressing in little individual glass dishes at each place. The edges are notched by lining the cucumber and it must be sliced to threadlike thinness to be its best.

Hamburger en Casserole.

Buy two pounds of round steak and have it ground, or better still, grind it at home. Butter a casserole dish and place a layer about two inches thick in the bottom. Add a layer of thinly sliced onion, one of rings of green pepper, and one of lemon juice. Season with salt and pepper. Repeat until the meat is used. Over the whole pour a bottle of tomato catsup and place strips of bacon over the top. Bake slowly one hour and a quarter.

Any other sort of potato might be acceptable with this delicious dish, but riced potato seems always to be most agreeable. Force the potato through the ricer directly into the dish in which it is to be served and attempting to rice it into a kitchen dish and then transfer it, for it is disastrous. Garnish with butter and finely chopped parsley.

This contest seems to be more popular than have any of the previous ones judging from the volume of mail that comes to us each morning with recipes to be entered. And they are delicious—we know. May we hope that recipes will continue to come early and so avoid the last minute rush.

LARGER PLANNING BOARD IS SOUGHT IN ARLINGTON

Federation Tells Gov. Byrd It Has List of Men Eligible for Membership.

GIFT TO LEE HIGHWAY

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
The Governor of Virginia having appointed his special representatives to serve with the National Capital park and planning commission without consulting the Arlington County Civic Federation, President Robert E. Plymale, at the direction of the federation, has sent the following letter to the governor:

"It has come to the attention of the Civic Federation of Arlington County that you have appointed three citizens of Arlington County as members of the commission to collaborate with the National Capital park and planning commission in the regional treatment of Greater Washington.

"As you, no doubt, have been advised, the movement on the part of Virginia and Maryland to assist the National park and planning commission was initiated by this federation. Much favorable comment on our action has been made by the Washington press. Senator Frank L. Ball, at our request, fostered legislation which was passed by the last general assembly and approved by your excellency.

"The federation has the highest regard for the gentlemen appointed by you, but feels that some recognition is due representative civic planners whose efforts should be utilized because of their standing with the membership of the National park and planning commission, and the Maryland commission. This committee of three could be ably assisted by others. Our federation, representing 34 local associations, request that additional members be appointed by your excellency and is prepared, through Mr. Plymale, its president, to furnish you with a selected list of persons with proven ability, should you so desire."

"The controversy over the route of the Lee boulevard has quite obscured certain facts of tremendous importance to Washington and Virginia," declared William S. Hoge, chairman of the right of way committee of the association, last night. "Lee Highway association has secured as practically a free gift a 200-foot right of way from Arlington bridge to the Forter woods. No one questions the wisdom of this location, and Clarendon, Ballston, Lyon Village, Falls Church and all of Arlington county are the beneficiaries."

"Lee Highway association has secured a 200-foot right of way for a boundary boulevard bounding and rounding out the large holdings of the Federal government to Arlington cemetery and Fort Myer and this was done in order to assist the city planning commission and upon the suggestion of officials of the government.

"The Lee Highway association has secured the gift of an almost 17-acre tract of land as beautiful as Rock Creek park within 4 1/2 miles of the White House as a public park and has also secured a 200-foot right of way to enable the citizens of Washington to reach the park. No such tract of land could be secured so close to the heart of Washington for $100,000.

"The Lee Highway association located the boulevard upon principle. If the principle is wrong, the location is wrong. If the principle is right, the location is right. "That principle was to secure a route that would make possible the elimination of all grade crossings for a central speedway and to secure all the natural beauty of landscape possible. The southern route met both these conditions. The other routes did not."

Man Hooked to Cot; Firemen Are Called

After passing the night at the home of a friend living at 452 Massachusetts avenue northwest, Harry White, 50 years old, an elevator operator in a local hotel, was hooked in the muscles of his left arm by a wire of his cot yesterday morning. Attempts to free him were unsuccessful until some one called the fire department squad.

The wire entered the fleshy part of his arm when White turned over in bed. After occupants of the house had failed in their efforts to remove the wire, members of the rescue squad arrived with electric clippers and released the man in a few seconds. White's great weight made it difficult for his friends to extricate him.

2 More School Girls Accuse Taxi Driver

Arrested on complaint of Miss Sarah Boyard, 15 years old, 1244 Eleventh street northwest, that he attempted to drag her into his taxicab Saturday night while she was on her way home from a neighboring store, Leonard F. Schenkel, 25 years old, 179 V street northeast, last night was confronted with a complaint from two other girls, pupils of the Thomson graded school.

Schenkel was arrested yesterday by Precinct Detective Christensen and Policeman Gemeny of the Second police precinct, and charged with a serious offense against Miss Boyard and assault on Samuel Bellos, her uncle. The other charge grew out of the complaint of the two little girls that a taxicab driver had made improper advances to them last February.

WISCONSIN AVENUE GETS DE LUXE CARS

New Type Carriers Bought With Hope of Improving Traction Business.

Installation by the Wisconsin avenue line of fifteen de luxe type street cars, with leather-covered cushion seats, rubber-tiled floor and equipped with automatic safety devices, was announced yesterday by the Washington Railway & Electric Co. The cars are painted cream with a royal blue encircling band on the exterior and are finished in white enamel, buff and natural cherry on the interior.

The new cars are designed for one-man operation, with front entrance and rear exit, and cost $15,266 each, and will run over the new Wisconsin avenue track, repair of which cost $285,500.

This expenditure of $516,000 on a line which has not been considered profitable is hoped by the company officials to be reflected in public appreciation and increased patronage by the residents of the sections through which the new cars will run. They will serve Georgetown, Cleveland Park, Bethesda, Battery Park, Edgemoor, Somerset, Alta Vista and other communities along Wisconsin avenue.

3 Industrial Home Boys Make Escape

Police yesterday were asked to look for three colored boys between the ages of 16 and 21 years old, who escaped from the Industrial Home school at Blue Plains, D. C., in the late afternoon.

They are Raymond Lucas, 21 years old, described as cross-eyed and dark-skinned; Martin Plarinton, 17 years old, brown-skinned and tall for his age, and Jerry Sloan, 16 years old and brown-skinned. All were wearing khaki trousers, blue striped shirts and plaid caps.

Label Charge Ignored.

The grand jury ignored a charge of libel against Mrs. Clara S. Waters which resulted from a complaint made by Mrs. Kathryn E. Harris, 1301 Massachusetts avenue northwest. The defendant, who conducts a registry for nurses, was alleged to have written a letter reflecting on the complaining witness, who also conducts a registry for nurses.

CONFERENCE MAY BRING SMALLER REALTY SIGNS

Agents Seek to Avoid Trouble of Obtaining Special Permits for Boards.

WHITEHURST TO REPORT

Changes in the regulations governing erection of signs advertising real estate on the premises for sale may follow a conference held yesterday by Capt. Herbert C. Whitehurst, assistant to the engineer commissioner, with a number of real estate men and builders.

Capt. Whitehurst wants to standardize procedure with reference to signs and asked the builders if they would be willing to have the maximum of signs issued on permits in suburban communities from 10 to 48 square feet. They said they would not object if they could have permits for the signs issued as a matter of routine along with the permits to erect buildings, instead of having to obtain a special permit.

Agreement was reached on introduction of a rule to require painting of the dates and serial numbers of permits on the backs of signs, so that policemen could tell which were unauthorized without other investigation. The real estate men wanted the rule amended to permit ordinary signs, without special permits to be increased as to maximum size, from six to nine square feet.

Capt. Whitehurst said he would consider all the suggestions and make his recommendations later to the commissioners.

Borah Meets Passaic Strike Heads Today

(By the Associated Press.)

Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho, will confer today with representatives of the Passaic (N. J.) manufacturers and strikers in the hope of establishing a basis of mediation for settlement of the strike. The senator yesterday received a delegation representing the strikers, and was advised by telegraph by Charles F. H. Johnson, representing the manufacturers, that he would be here today. Senator Borah said the situation looked hopeful.

German Industries Borrow $900,000,000

(By the Associated Press.)

Since the Dawes plan went into effect, German industries have borrowed more than $900,000,000 from banks in America and Europe, with approximately half of the total being floated in the United States, the Commerce Department reported yesterday on the basis of estimates by German financial experts. Great Britain, Holland, Switzerland and Sweden were the other countries in which loans were placed.

DR. MANN'S LETTER ON RADIO

WRC Will Broadcast Experiences of Capital Man in Africa.

The Washington portion of WRC's entertainment tonight will introduce as its principal feature a second account of the experiences of Dr. William M. Mann, director of the National Zoological park, who is now in the Tanganyika territory, East Africa, directing the Smithsonian-Chrysler expedition in its attempt to capture several new animals for the Washington zoo. Dr. Mann's experiences, which include an escape by him from a herd of buffalo, will be read by Austin H. Clark, of the Smithsonian institution. Dr. Mann is at present in a region "swarming with rhinos," according to his letter, and he expects to get one for the Capital.

Other presentations include the "Gems of Romance," "Southern Hemisphere Cruise," the Kitt Trio, Tupman's Mayflower orchestra and Meyer Davis' Le Paradis band.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock WRC will resume the broadcasting of play-by-play accounts of the games played on tour by the Washington team.

The SWAVELY School

Swaveley, formerly in Washington, is now located in the country at Manassas, Virginia. In addition to the college preparatory department, there is a junior school especially equipped to take care of boys from twelve to fourteen doing seventh and eighth grade work.

A limited enrollment and small classes enable each boy to get the close personal attention which is a crowded grade school of Washington are unable to give.

The FIVE-DAY PLAN is popular with Washington boys. Students stay in the real country at a safe, progressive school for five days and spend every week-end at home. The wholesome, homelike atmosphere at Swaveley is satisfying to the most anxious parent.

The school is easily accessible by railroad and auto route. Address: E. Swaveley, Principal, Manassas, Virginia.

WIVES OF TOMORROW

By FRANCES McDONALD

"Manhood" Rebels!

DEAR MISS McDONALD: That girl who wrote to you and roasted, abused and slandered the whole male sex because a few of her boy friends were offensive to her deserves a few well-chosen words from the men who have to stand for so much these days. What right has any girl who perhaps knows at best a dozen feeble-minded sheiks to sit down and slander the whole male sex. In the first place the girl who is insulted by every man she meets is to blame in some way for her own predicament. In the second place she can't judge several billion human beings by a dozen soft-skulled examples who have taken advantage of her because for some reason they believed she expected it. I myself have been introduced to girls who were such limp personalities that they would wonder whether they were waiting for something to start or were unconscious or just dead. The girl who knows what she wants usually gets it. The one who is limp—who just sits and acts as if she had mislaid her personality—gets what some mistaken male thinks she wants. And that type of girl always has—and always will attract only the third rate males anyway. If girls would develop their brains and forget their sex just for a change it would be a blessing!

MANHOOD.

Dear Miss McDonald: Please let a mere man, one who was not invited to have his say in the replies to the questions of Waiting, give some reply.

This certain girl is young, very young, and has probably met chaps of her age or some degraded character who call themselves men, and has listened and condemned the whole sex as the result.

I am a young man of 22 and truly indorse petting under the proper circumstances. It is indeed harmless if not taken to the extremes. Girls are not surprised when kissed and if a man likes a girl isn't it right? A man is not worth a girl's esteem if he demands her standards to be lowered against her wishes. Who in this jazz-mad era of ours is not slightly tarnished? The age of hip-flasks and wild joy rides. A girl who mingles with men (real men) can readily understand their character and their real strength.

May I write also to invite the men to please reply to "Waiting," and tell her what they think on the matter.

I have met many girls and found some tricky, bad, fickle, but I do not condemn all the sex for the shortcomings of a few.

Wake up, Waiting and your cohorts, and hunt around you for the "good sport," as there are millions of men just that.

"LARRY."

You and Your Dog—5 Splendid Varieties

THE selection of a dog is largely a matter of individual preference, requirements and conditions. Every breed, generally speaking, possesses traits which differentiate it from the rest. They are all dogs, just as all people are people. But within that broad classification are to be found sharp variations of character as the whole human race can show.

The circumstances of the owner's home ought to be one of the first considerations in choosing a dog—whether he lives in the town or country, in a house or apartment. Large, long-legged dogs do well in city apartments in apparent health and happiness, but it is probably more a testimony to the dog's adaptability and patience than to his master's kindness or wisdom. Allowance must be made not only for his size, but for his energy, which seems greater in proportion to his bulk. The mere ringing up and lying down of a big dog is apt to be a bit cataclysmic in a small room filled with light-weight furniture, and should he be in haste to answer the call of a peep or should an indiscreet cat pass by—well, he may leave ruin in his wake.

If, however, it is possible to provide the space needed for exercise, the bigger breeds not only have greater qualities of protection than the smaller ones, but they have a splendid kind of beauty, not only of build, but of movement and action which belongs to them alone.

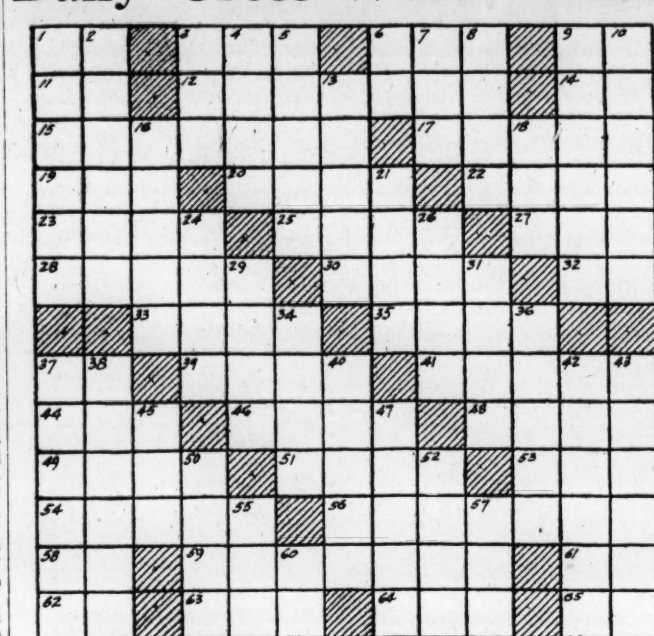

One of the best known of the larger dogs is the Collie—indeed he is so well and favorably known as to need no description. His narrow, aristocratic head set in a beautiful ruff—his plume-like tail—thick, lustrous coat and alert clever expression make him one of the handsomest of dogs. His long record as a guardian of children, of property, and as family friend, needed to ask whether it's etiquette to leave a posy for her and a little knitted sacque for the baby. You just do it.

In regard to presents for the very young, there are many which may be useful. Small silver knives, forks and spoons. Silver or pretty china bowls (the old-fashioned word is "porringer"). Knitted jackets, socks and blankets, rattles, rings to cut the teeth on. All sorts of bib-pins, caps, small for robes for the perambulator; strings of coral or small gold beads, for a girl; but never bracelets or rings, for such rigid little adornments are bad for the circulation and vulgar-looking, besides. Medals of all kinds, blessed or not, of holy saints or more worldly good-luck quality are given. Sometimes a rich grandparent or godparent gives a check or collects one fine pearl a year.

Conduct and Common Sense

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S HANDS.
By Viola Paris.

MABEL read my article about manures, and it fills her with gloom. Mabel's married—very much in love and happy, thank you, but quite servile—she and those shining, softly pink finger-tips look like the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, forever out of reach.

Mabel—are you sure it's not housework, but laziness, that ruins your hands? Do you use harsh soaps when you might do the day's job with something milder? Do you soften hard dishwater with borax?

Tomorrow Viola Paris will talk about the care of a young child's skin.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

SUCCESS.
This is success, so to have lived your years
That all who've known you shall have found you true.
Have seen in some way what is beat in you
And found in you some comfort for their tears.
A smile which passed but often reappears.
Or heard a word which cheered them through and through
And think of you as one who tried to do

Some friendly service in a time of fears.
Great souls in humble bodies often dwell.
The noble spirits walk in common ways.
In thoughtfulness for others they excel.
A gentle friendship marks their round of days.
Longest remembered at the journey's end
Is he who reaped his glory as a friend.

London's Playgoers Want No Problems

London, July 26 (By A. P.).—London theatergoers want a light diet. That is demonstrated by the long list of plays which present no problem and afford laughs. "The Farmer's Wife," performed more than 1,050 times in London, led all other plays in London, on July 1. "No. No. Nanette," was second with 528 performances. "Rose Marie" was third with 537 performances. "A Cuckoo in the Nest," "Mercenary Mary" and "The Last of the Cheyenne" were next, all with runs of over 300 performances.

"Sky Pilot" Is Named Legion Commander

St. Paul, July 26 (By A. P.).—Minnesota American Legionnaires now have a "sky pilot" as their State commander. He is the Rev. M. D. Hafeman, former State Legion chaplain. He is believed to be the first minister to head a State Legion department. Mr. Hafeman was appointed to fill the unexpected term of Joe O'Hara, who resigned to enter politics. He will serve but a short while, as a new commander will be named at the State convention in August.

MODISH MITZI

Mitzi Is Entertained and Entertaining

Wherever Mitzi goes she finds friends. A certain well-known woman's club in Oklahoma City is entertaining Mitzi and her party. The hostess is dating Mitzi up for the entire stay. Polly is meekly suggesting that they were to see something of the city. "Shush, my dear," says Mitzi, "the quickest way to know all about a city is to meet the people who live in it." Mitzi is engaged in admiring the dinner dress of her hostess which has a low cut V front and a deeper V yoke. Mitzi herself is wearing a gown with fringe on it. The square crystal and pearl button earring she wears is new. Polly wears a lace dress with chiffon godets. Yes, thank you, of course she will be delighted to play bridge. Just any time.

The scene changes. At dinner Dad is mapping out the program for tomorrow. They must see the city. Dad remembers it when—well, anyway, it was more years ago than even Dad cares to admit and he would like to check up on the amazing progress of this metropolis. Mitzi says that if Dad wants to see the city he may have to see it alone for she has already accepted several invitations to bridges. Please notice that all three ladies are wearing flowers on their shoulder. You can't see Mitzi's, but it is there. They are made of chiffon. This type of flower was first introduced by a famous French couturier. Dad is conducting a tour from coast to coast for the purpose of enlightening his family about the country they live in. He is certainly working under difficulties!

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. W. A. EVANS

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease. Requests for such service can not be answered.

PERILS OF DRINKING.
THE insurance companies have learned that the drinking habit lessens the span of life. With them the question is one of dollars and cents. Furthermore, their opinion is not based on optional individuals. They arrive at their conclusion by studying the life histories of many million people. When it comes to a matter of this importance no one insurance company depends on its own experience alone. All insurance companies pool their figures and in that way not only do they rule out conclusions based on small numbers, but they get rid of variations due to sectional and racial influences.

The Illinois Life Insurance Co. has a chart prepared by the Graphic Chart service and taken from volume 10, Medical Actuarial Mortality Investigation. The base line on this chart is designated 100 per cent of the expected mortality. This line shows the expected deaths of the insured people. It also indicates about how long the insurance company expects the average insured person to pay premiums and about when they can expect to pay death benefits on the average.

Plainly enough here is a field in which no insurance company could afford to kid itself. Using this 100 base line as normal, steady, free users of alcoholic beverages have a death rate which at its worst reaches 218, or nearly two and a half times the normal.

Statistics on drinking have been objected to because there was no certain way of knowing just how much insured men drank. This chart covers the question by three curves. One is labeled "steady free user, conservative interpretation;" another, "steady free user, liberal interpretation;" and the third is an average or midway curve made by combining the first and second.

This third curve, probably the fairest of the group, shows that after one year of insured life drinkers have a death rate that is 5 per cent above normal; at the end of two years, 15 per cent; three years, 24 per cent; four years, 32 per cent; five years, 40 per cent. It remains at or above 40 per cent over normal until the insurance has been carried 12 years. At 14 years it is 21 per cent above normal. After that it continually mounts, to reach 70 per cent above normal in the twentieth year of insurance.

CHICAGOANS ENJOY 152 GOLF COURSES

One Accommodates 734 Players in a Day; City Could Use 35 More Links.

Chicago, July 26 (By A. P.).—Golf courses around Chicago grow up faster than statistics can be compiled, but there are now 152 made or in the making, with work on the last two started in the Cook county forest preserves.

Four such forest links are now open and one of them accommodated 734 players one fine Sunday in June. The two new ones will make 35 public fee courses around the city. The county board's plan for building them in the fee class is to remove the cost from the taxpayer, while the players pay very little. When the fees have repaid the builders for their expenditure, the forest courses are turned over to the county board.

Golf enthusiasts boast that Chicago has 5 per cent of the links in the country, and 10 per cent of the players, largely because of the great number open to the public at nominal charge.

"We could have 35 more public fee courses around the city and still have congestion on all of them," said Prof. Leon G. Kranz, of Northwestern university, who developed last year's Big Ten Champion golf team.

"The public courses take care of an estimated 100,000 persons in Chicago."

"I'm Too Tall!"

THE tall woman needs to break herself into sections, if she's to come down from her steep-like proportions to the scale made customary by the rest of us. But if she isn't slim as well as tall, this dress is not for her. If she is, and blue is becoming to her, she'll be very smart if she has it made in navy and a light shade of blue, with a blue band hunched in black, quilt black shoes—very new and smart—beige gloves and stockings. Fabric? Crepe satin. And how we wish we could turn her round to show you how interesting the bodice is in the back! It's a little bolero with four buttons in the middle at the top and loose-hanging sides from there down.

JULY PRE-INVENTORY SALE

EVERY department in the store has contributed to this famous clearance event, exceptional values in really desirable merchandise. All summer stock, some left over from our July sales, some never reduced before. You may be prepared for heavy price concessions on garments that you need now for smart wear throughout the summer. Everything has been marked down regardless of summer prices—regardless of even cost—in this tremendous clean-up of summer stocks.

Low Prices Alone Do Not Make Values!

It is only when low prices refer to high quality merchandise, in a current vogue, in excellent style, and in season, that low prices mean exceptional value. Jelleff merchandise is always of excellent quality. Reductions on Jelleff merchandise could therefore only signify "exceptional values." That is why it will pay you to do all your shopping at Jelleff's this week.

INSTITUTE DELEGATES RETURN ENTHUSIASTICDallas Convention Highly Beneficial; Royally Entertained, They Say.

LOCAL MARKET BETTER

By F. W. PATTERSON.

Enthusiastic over their trip and full of plans for greater accomplishments during the chapter year, the twelve delegates from the Washington chapter, who attended the annual convention of the American Institute of Banking, in Dallas, Tex., July 12 to 16, returned to the city last night.

Leaving Dallas at midnight July 16, delegates journeyed to New Orleans, where they were entertained by the local chapter for three days, after which they boarded the S. S. Creole which landed them in New York yesterday.

"The convention from which we have just come was one of the best balanced of any yet held by the American Institute of Banking," said T. Hinton Leith, president of the Washington chapter, last night. "The business sessions were unusually interesting and highly beneficial, and the departmental conferences were especially good. We were royally entertained at various points en route, and the amusement program at Dallas was sumptuous."

Two past presidents of the local chapter were honored by the convention in being chosen as national committeemen. Harold W. Burdette was named to membership on the forum committee, and R. Jesse Chaney, who preceded Mr. Leith as head of the Washington chapter, was appointed to the presidents' conference committee.

Those who were in the convention party returning with Mr. Leith last night were William G. Winstead, Miss S. Winstead, Mr. W. Sherman and H. P. Kimball. American Security and Trust Co., J. D. Yerkess and Miss Lois A. White, Federal American National, A. E. Henze, W. E. Hibbs, C. A. W. Sherman and H. P. Kimball. American Security and Trust Co., J. D. Yerkess and Miss Lois A. White, Federal American National, A. E. Henze, W. E. Hibbs, C. A. W. Sherman and H. P. Kimball.

Market Here Improved.

Yesterday's opening of the Washington Stock Exchange was a decided improvement over that of the preceding Monday, both as to volume of turnover and price. The preferred was the day's market leader, advancing a 1/4 point, to 89 on opening sale of 25 shares and maintaining the gain on sales of four lots totaling 60 shares. Closing quotation was 88 1/2 bid, 89 1/2 asked. Potomac Electric Power preferred picked up a fraction, with 13 shares selling in three lots at 108 1/2, while the interim certificates were unchanged at 106. Morgan Guaranty Linotype sold to the extent of 30 shares at 106, when asked advanced to 106 1/2. Washington Loan & Trust Co. sold in a single share at 47 1/2.

Bidding on the bond side of the exchange was firm, but offerings were limited to Georgetown Gas Light 6s, which sold at par, Washington Gas Light 6s, selling in the smaller denominations at 103 1/2 and 103 3/4, while the larger sold unchanged at 104 1/4, and Capital Tranche 5s which held to an even keel at 101.

Back from Wisconsin.

Thomas W. Brahany, who, on July 1, became a member of the investment banking firm of Crane, Harris & Co., returned to the city yesterday after an absence of three weeks which he devoted to a motor trip to his old home in Wisconsin, and put in his first active day as a partner in the firm.

Reserve Bank Report.

Banks in the Fifth Federal Reserve district of which member banks in Washington are a part had total loans and discounts of $512,864,000, at the close of business July 21, according to Federal Reserve board statement yesterday. Total investments were shown as $138,690,000, and net demand deposits totaled $273,345,000.

The weekly condition of 699 reporting member banks in leading cities shows an increase of $10,000,000 in investments and reductions of $27,000,000 in loans and discounts, $131,000,000 in net demand deposits and $17,000,000 in borrowings from the Federal Reserve banks. The principal reductions in net demand deposits were $35,000,000 in the New York district, $33,000,000 in Chicago district, $15,000,000 in the San Francisco district $11,000,000, and the St. Louis district $10,000,000.

WALL STREET GOSSIP

New York, July 26 (By A. P.).—Heavy melting steel scrap has been reduced 25 cents a ton in the Chicago district, quotations varying from $14 to $14.50 a ton.

Wall Street anticipates the U. S. Steel Corporation will report an increase in unfilled orders at the close of this month, which would be the first for the current year. This calculation is based on pronounced improvement in new business and despite an increase in the rate of operations recently, borrowings have exceeded production and shipments.

Net operating income of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific for June was nearly double the amount for June last year, and the best for any corresponding month in ten years, $2,268,803 against $1,194,274. Net for the half year was $5,958,035 against $3,314,735 in the same period of 1925.

Transcontinental Oil, which owns the 1,600 acres in Nigger Creek Field, Tex., has brought in its second well flowing 175 barrels an hour. The first well is yielding 2,200 barrels daily.

Net income of Pierce Arrow Motor Car for the half year advanced to $808,843, equal to $8.08 a share on the preferred and $1.22 a share on the common, from $502,781 in the first half of 1925, or $5.02 a share on the preferred and 40 cents a share on the common.

June net operating income of the Northern Pacific rose to $1,764,615 from $1,282,702 in June last year and for the half year to $7,255,551 from $5,342,158 a year ago.

American Sumatra Tobacco Co. virtually has completed harvesting its 1926 crop of tobacco on its Georgetown and Florida plantations, favorable weather conditions having produced an abundant crop of high quality. The entire Southern crop will aggregate close to 800,000 pounds. Harvesting of the Connecticut and Massachusetts crops are just beginning and will end about September 1. For the first time in the company's history it has sold every bale of the old crop before putting the new crop in the drying sheds. The new crop will come on the market the first of this year.

The New York Central lines reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission today gross revenues for June of $35,201,264, an increase of $2,067,796 over last June and of $2,735,349 over May, 1926. Net operating income for June was $7,650,498, an increase of $508,755 over June last year and of $1,256,078 over May of this year.

Surplus of $604,162 reported by the St. Louis-Southwestern (Cotton Belt) for the half year is equal after preferred dividends to 65 cents a share for the common, against $622,486, or 76 cents a share in the first half of 1925. The Missouri-Kansas-Texas had $1,910,276 after preferred dividends, equal to $1.24 on the common, against $2,221,639, or $1.45 a share, a year ago.

Profit of Southern Dairies, Inc., for the half year rose to $739,266 before depreciation and Federal taxes, from $390,191 in the first half of 1925.

June net operating income of the Erie Railroad declined to $1,824,520 from $2,104,260 in June last year.

Profit of Pacific Mills for the half year fell to $227,594 or 56 cents a share, from $330,303 or 1.32 a share in the same period last year.

In contrast to a deficit of $24,747 for June last year, the Chicago & Great Western reports net operating income of $210,331 for June this year, bringing the half year to $814,577 against $229,930 a year ago.

United Alloy Steel has notified the New York Exchange of a proposed increase in authorized common capital stock from 905,000 shares to 2,000,000 shares.

Net income of Twin City Rapid Transit for the first half of 1926 was $224,445, equal to $2.80 a share on the common, after allowing for preferred dividends, against $658,223 or $2.51 a share in the first half of 1925.

Why Smith Bonds Are Safe Bonds

OUR current circular describes several available issues of 6 1/2%, 6 3/4% and 7% First Mortgage Bonds which are—

Selected by the time-tested safety standards that have created world-wide confidence in Smith Bonds;

Secured by first mortgages on new, modern, income-producing properties;

Protected by a wide margin of security between the value of each property and the amount of the mortgage;

Reinforced by monthly sinking fund payments which constantly increase the margin of security;

Strengthened by the growth of large, thriving cities—Washington, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and Albany—where real estate values and economic conditions are sound;

Shielded by the safeguards that have resulted in our record of no loss to any investor in 53 years.

Send your name and address on the form below for our two booklets and for our current circular.

PRICES OF BONDS MOVE

WITHIN NARROW LIMITS

French Issues Rally Further.
Other Foreign Obligations Improve.

"MERGER" RAILS STRONG

New York, July 26 (By the Associated Press).—Curtailment of activity in the bond market today corresponded with the dwindling interest in stock trading, but prices maintained a firm tone. Several erratic price fluctuations marked dealings in domestic bonds, but changes as a rule were held within narrow limits.

With the French financial outlook becoming more encouraging, the trend of foreign obligations was more uniform toward the upward. Issues extended their recoveries by substantial fractions and marked improvement was noted in Swiss, Belgian, Czechoslovakian and other continental bonds. Activity was reduced by the absence of strong pressure against the leading issues.

Wide fluctuations in West Virginia Coal & Coke 6s drew the attention of traders to this issue. On a few sales the price advanced more than 4 points to a new low record at 65, where they attacked enough support to carry them back to 73, a net gain of 3 1/2 points on the day. North American Cement 6 1/2s and Cuban Sugar 7s fell back about a point.

Railroad liens followed the upward movement of the carrier stocks, with buying of the merger issues stimulated by the recent progress in completing consolidation plans. Chesapeake & Ohio 5s, Columbus & Hocking Valley 4s, Peoria & Eastern Income 4s and Katy Adjustment 5s were higher.

Public offering will be made this week of $15,000,000 Silesian-American Corporation 15-year 7 per cent bonds to finance the acquisition of the Giesche zinc properties by American interests. A $12,500,000 offering of Giesche zinc debentures was oversubscribed today.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, July 26 (By A. P.).—An advance which lifted some positions to new high levels for the season, and a late reaction which sent the market off to within a few points of the lowest for the day were features in an active cotton market today. It closed 10 to 17 points above the final of Saturday.

Because of firm cables, heavy sales of cotton goods at the close of last week, the tropical storm and further rains in the Southwest, the market opened firm and 9 to 10 points higher. Japan and India, with spot houses and New Orleans, bought rather freely at the close, and while active realizing demand, at times, the undertone of the market remained generally firm before the government report of private wires concerning crop conditions in the rain regions of the Southwest.

The apex of the advance came in mid-afternoon when the market rose to 31 points net higher, following heavy buying by Wall Street interests, who were buying on the government report of private wires concerning crop conditions in the rain regions of the Southwest.

The fact that the market has advanced upward 2 cents since the low of the month, however, attracted extensive realizing by traders who had acquired long before the government report was published, and this wave of selling, in connection with the Southwest during the next two days, temporarily undermined the bullish position and precipitated sharp reactions in the close, which forced prices to within 2 or 3 points of the lowest for the day.

Exports were 28,725 bales, making $1,076,711 so far this season. Port receipts, 22,267. United States port stocks, 44,122.

ELDRIDGE EXPECTS NEW PERMIT PLAN TO CUT ACCIDENTS

Tells Post Radio Hour Fans Method for Obtaining Licenses.

BUREAU WILL KEEP RECORDS OF AUTOISTS

Urges Applications Be Made
Soon to Avoid Drastic Action Later.

M. O. Eldridge, director of traffic, broadcasting during The Post's radio hour over WCAP last night.

The amended traffic act, which was passed by Congress and approved by President Coolidge on July 8, provided that hereafter all new permits for driving motor vehicles in the District of Columbia shall be issued for a period of three years from the date of issuance, and that all outstanding permits shall be renewed as soon as practicable, good for three years from the date of issuance. The fee for each of these classes of permits will be three dollars, payable to the collector of taxes.

In the enactment of this legislation it was clearly the intent of Congress to eliminate from the streets of the Nation's Capital all drivers of automobiles who have heretofore or who may hereafter prove to be a menace to public safety. It is hoped that when the provisions of this act become fully effective that traffic accidents on the streets of Washington will be reduced to a minimum.

These permits may be issued to any individual within the age limit prescribed, who is mentally, morally, and physically qualified to operate a motor vehicle in such a manner as not to jeopardize the safety of individuals or property.

New Drivers Examined.

Each applicant for a new permit is to be carefully examined as to his knowledge of the traffic regulations of the District and to demonstrate his ability to safely operate a motor vehicle within a designated portion of the District. For those who apply for the renewal of an old permit such examination and demonstration may be waived, if the traffic record of the individual is found to be satisfactory.

Each applicant for a new permit or for a renewal is required to state in his application his full name, street number, postoffice address, date of birth, age, nationality, race, sex, weight, height, color of eyes and color of hair. The permit itself, when issued, will indicate the age, race, sex, color of hair and color of eyes.

The object of requiring this information is to prevent permits from being issued by persons who are not entitled to them. It has been a common practice in Washington for a good many years, among a certain class of individuals, to obtain and use through fraudulent methods new permits or duplicates or permits issued to other people. This is especially true of persons who have made application for permits and who have, for some reason, been unable to pass the examinations or qualify. Approximately 45 per cent of all those who applied for new permits during the past year have been rejected on their first examination.

That everyone who operates a motor vehicle should undergo a rigid examination before being permitted to drive is best illustrated by an incident which occurred Sunday night, July 18, about midnight when two colored men, in a stolen automobile while being chased by revenue officers at a high rate of speed, collided with another car at Seventh and L streets northwest, fatally injuring two of the occupants of that car.

Neither the driver of the car which caused the accident nor his companion in crime had ever procured an operator's permit.

Questions Asked.

Applicants for renewal of permits to operate will be required to furnish the following information and answer the following questions on their application blank:

Give in the upper left-hand corner of the card the number of the original permit.

State whether your driving privilege has ever been suspended or revoked in the District of Columbia or elsewhere.

If so, give date, place and reason for same.

Has your privilege to operate been restored?

If so, give date.

Have you been arrested since May 2, 1925, for any of the following traffic offenses: Speed, reckless driving, driving under the influence of liquor or drugs, leaving after colliding, illegally passing a street car, failing to obey traffic signals, operating without a permit?

If the questions relating to violations are answered in the negative and the records show that they have been correctly answered, the application will be O. K'd by the examining clerk and the permit will be mailed to the applicant. If the records indicate that the person has been arrested for some of these offenses, a further check will be made of the record, which may in some cases necessitate refusal to issue the permit or notice to the applicant to come to the traffic bureau and stand an examination to indicate whether, in the opinion of the examining officer, the permit should be renewed.

The applicant will also have to state whether he has good natural eyesight and if not whether the defect has been corrected by glasses.

The applicant must state whether he is subject to epileptic attacks and whether he has any other physical defects which might interfere with his ability to safely operate a motor vehicle.

If the applicant indicates that he has defective vision or hearing or is otherwise physically defective, a further examination and a certificate from a reputable physician will be necessary before the permit will be renewed.

Each applicant will be required to fill out the form in his own handwriting.

If he is unable to write it will be necessary to examine his record to see whether he is a persistent violator of traffic regulations and for him to give a mental test of his knowledge of the traffic regulations and his ability to understand traffic signals.

All permits when issued will include on the back a space which must contain the signature, in ink, of the person to whom it is issued. No permit will be valid until it is signed by the person to whom it is issued and no permit is, under any circumstances, transferable from one person to another.

The permit will include a space for the notation of serious convictions of the traffic act, which will be noted by the judge of the police court trying the case.

The owner of the permit will be unable to cancel or conceal this record against him by simply losing the permit and applying for a duplicate. If the permit is lost, stolen, or destroyed, a duplicate may be obtained by the payment of a fee of 50 cents, but the traffic record contained on the back of the original permit will be transferred to the duplicate. Stolen or worn permits may be replaced by a duplicate without charge.

In the application for a new permit the same information must be given as in the application for a renewal. If the applicant passes a satisfactory mental and physical test a temporary ten-day permit will be issued. During the ten-day period the record of the applicant is examined by the traffic bureau and referred to the captain of the precinct in which the individual lives, who will return the original application to the traffic bureau indicating approval or disapproval and if disapproved the reasons therefor.

Record to Be Kept.

As soon as a new permit or a renewal is issued to any individual a traffic record card is made out for the individual and hereafter these cards will be kept up to date and every arrest and the disposition of every case against each driver will be kept on these cards for the immediate information of court, police and traffic officials.

Applications for new permits and for renewals and duplicates of those persons who are between 16 and 18 years of age will be made on special forms and the latter will require the signature of the parent or guardian. Operators between 16 and 18 years of age can not obtain permits except for the use of passenger vehicles or motorcycles owned by themselves, their parent or guardian, and used solely for purposes of pleasure.

A regular motor vehicle operator's permit will not be good to operate a motorcycle. Applications for the operation of motorcycles will require the filling out of a special form giving approximately the same information referred to above, but the demonstration tests for those applying for motorcycle permits is conducted in motorcycles, and those holding motorcycle permits can not operate automobiles until they have applied for and obtained a motor vehicle operator's permit.

The regular permit for an automobile is blue; for a motorcycle, gray, and for persons 16 to 18 years of age, yellow.

All renewed permits will be sent to the owners by mail in small window envelopes which will indicate the name and address of the owner of the permit through the opening. This envelope should be kept in order to prevent the soiling of the permit when carried in the pocket.

$3 Is Required Fee

Remember, that in making application for the renewal of a permit, the application must be made out in your own handwriting with pen and ink, and not on the typewriter. Failure to observe this rule will cause delay in the issuance of the permit.

Each application for a renewal must be accompanied by a check or money order for $3. For your own protection against loss, please do not send cash.

It is hoped that every one in Washington who has a permit to drive will make application for its renewal within the next few weeks, otherwise it will be necessary to arrange to cancel all permits by names or numbers on given dates in order to force the renewal of permits before the end of the year. There are always procrastinating individuals who put off until tomorrow that which should be done today. Please do not procrastinate. Obtain a blank and make your application now and if you have a good record your permit will be mailed to you as soon as the records can be searched and it has been found that the privilege of operating a motor vehicle should be extended to you during the next three years.

MISS POE RELATES HISTORY OF AVENUE

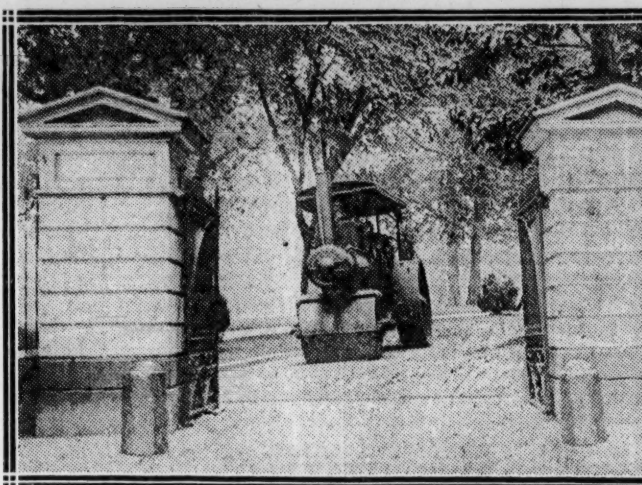

Whistler, Orchestra and Singers on Program of Post Radio Hour.

Pennsylvania avenue was described as the "queen of America's roads" by Elizabeth E. Poe, of The Post staff, yesterday in the course of the regular bi-weekly Post radio program broadcast from station WCAP of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. Miss Poe gave an interesting recital of many historical incidents and events which have taken place along the Avenue.

Mary Buzsaro, whistler; James A. Barr, tenor, of St. Patrick's Players, and Agatha Bowen, coloratura soprano, of Binghamton, N. Y., gave several numbers, accompanied at the piano by Margaret Bowl Grant, "Calling for You," by William T. Pierson, program director of WCAP, was one of the songs sung by Miss Bowen. Maurice Haxton's Toll House orchestra gave an excellent program of dance music. Baseball scores were announced.

M. O. Eldridge, traffic director, gave a detailed description of the distribution and use of the new automobile operating permits, and his address is printed in full elsewhere in The Post today.

Demonstrations Given Of Electric Cookery

Under the direction of Miss Mary E. Turner, domestic science expert of the Potomac Electric Power Co., a demonstration of electric cookery will be held in the showrooms of that company every day this week.

Miss Turner is an accomplished expert on the subject of electric cookery. Every Friday afternoon, she will give a series of broadcasts over WRC, and her lectures on the subject have been increasing in popularity. The purpose of electric cookery week is educational, to acquaint Washington housewives with the possibilities. At all hours exhibits of menus prepared electrically will be on display. On the show-room floor practical tests and demonstrations will be made on varied cooking phases.

RELEASED HOSPITAL PATIENT REARRESTED

John A. Harris First Man From St. Elizabeths to Feel
New Ruling.

C.N. HOWELL CALLED SANE

John A. Harris, of Takoma Park, Md., a patient at St. Elizabeths hospital, is the first person to be taken into custody under the newly formulated plan of District Attorney Peyton Gordon to offset the release of persons who are thought to be dangerous.

As soon as Harris was released yesterday by Chief Justice McCoy in the District Supreme Court, he was taken into custody. He will be given a hearing later before a jury.

His release came about because the Veterans' Bureau, which originally committed him, possessed no legal commitment papers—the custom being to commit ex-service men on an order from Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau, without bringing the men into court. Charles N. Howell, 65 years old, 1226 Park road northwest, another patient, was declared to be of sound mind and released yesterday by a jury in the same court. He was committed October 2, 1925, following an adjudication of unsound mind. Attorney Godfrey L. Munster appeared for him.

C. T. ELGIN, ACCUSED IN MAY CASE, INDICTED

Man Charged With Shooting Delaware Woman Held
by Grand Jury.

Carroll T. Elgin, elevator starter employed in a office building at Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Mary May, of Wilmington, Del., April 26 last, near the Raleigh hotel.

According to the police Elgin was crazed with liquor at the time. He jumped into a taxi at the hotel entrance and ordered Charles Pepper, the driver, to go somewhere. Elgin charged, Pepper did not move fast enough to suit Elgin, and, according to the police, the latter fired at Pepper and the shot struck Mrs. May, who was nearby. Elgin then pointed his pistol at the next taxi in line in front of the hotel and ordered Henry G. Bahr, the driver, to go somewhere. Bahr started out and got into a traffic jam at Fourteenth and E streets northwest, where the police arrested Elgin. The names of other persons indicted and the charges against them will be found in the daily legal record of The Post.

300 NEWSBOYS SWIM AS THE POST GUESTS

Assemble at Georgia Avenue Pool and Splash Around for Hours.

Three hundred eager boys of The Washington Post were guests of their paper yesterday morning at the new District of Columbia Swimming club pool at Georgia avenue and W street northwest.

The boys assembled at the pool at 9 o'clock and many remained in the water until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. W. D. Miller, circulation manager of The Post, and G. G. Lewis, circulation promotion manager, went to the pool and saw that the car boys were admitted. The new pool is 180 feet by 140 feet.

The entertainment is one of a series being given to the boys by The Post.

Two Are Held in Last Of Narcotic Hearings

With the arraignment of Robert Orr and Daniel Ahney yesterday, United States Commissioner Needham C. Turnage, completed hearings in the long list of persons taken as a result of the narcotic raids two weeks ago. Out of 100 persons taken in the raids, 24 have been heard by Commissioner Turnage and held for grand jury action.

Orr was held in $2,000 for grand jury action and Ahney was held in $1,000 for similar action. Both were charged with violating the Harrison narcotic law. Three warrants are being held by police for men implicated as a result of the raids.

Court Denies Alimony.

The application of Mrs. Gertrude Benson, employee of the Department of Agriculture, who says she is the wife of Gordon W. Benson, automobile salesman, for temporary alimony, was denied without prejudice yesterday by Justice Hoehling in equity court. Mrs. Benson is suing for absolute divorce. Benson set up the plea that he had divorced the plaintiff in Chicago and had remarried.

AREAS OF RAILROAD MAY BE CONSIDERED FOR MARKET TODAY

Park Engineer and B. & O.
Officials to Confer on Tracts Available as Sites.

COMMITTEE SURVEYS
PRESENT ADVANTAGES

Purchases at Farmers' Central Location Made at Prices Below Stores'.

Selections of a new site for the farmers' produce market probably will be discussed today at a conference between Baltimore & Ohio railroad officials and Maj. Carey H. Brown, engineer of the National Capital park and planning commission.

Serious consideration, it is thought, will be given to sites adjacent to the Baltimore & Ohio freight terminal at an area generally north of Union Station and between the station and First street northeast. George M. Roberts, superintendent of weights and measures, and serving with Maj. Brown and Department of Agriculture market authorities on a committee investigating alternate market sites, in a statement yesterday declared that to ascertain the benefits to consumers from the market, actual purchases in small family-sized quantities had been made there Saturday by a representative of the weights and measures department, other purchases being made from retail dealers at a market in the northwest section.

Prices Lower at Market.

Comparison of the prices showed that 50 per cent more was charged at the private market in some instances, and that the average charge was a little over 30 per cent more than at the farmers' market. Mr. Roberts' statement showed further that on purchases in larger quantities, such as are usually made by boarding houses or for large families, the savings would have been more, the farmers preferring to sell in unbroken lots to dispose of their produce more readily. He showed where 431 farmers, cultivating 14,277 acres in truck for market, have permits to sell on the market this season, and that many others bring produce to it, some coming 50 miles, believing it a more satisfactory medium for disposal of their products than to ship them to commission merchants.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, there were 47,892 loads of produce sold at the market at an estimated value of more than $2,000,000. Last Saturday alone, it is estimated, 2,000 heads of families visited the market and made purchases.

Jiggs Leaves Hospital To Attend Ball Game

In spite of doctors' remonstrances, Sergt. Maj. Jiggs, veteran marine mascot, was withdrawn yesterday from Locke's animal hospital, where he had been convalescing, and escorted to Philadelphia, in order to improve the morale of the marine nine, which has three games scheduled in this city. Jiggs, who attracted considerable attention recently, when he was rushed by airplane from Quantico to the local dog hospital, suffering from stomach trouble, had not completely recovered when he was removed yesterday from the doghouse charge of the hospital said. He was taken to Philadelphia by Sergt. I. E. Eisenberg, marine athletic mess caterer.

2,000 Are Expected To Frolic at Beach

Two thousand excursionists are expected to visit Chesapeake Beach today on the annual outings of the Knights of St. John and the ladies auxiliaries of the Crescent Benevolent association. Among the contests arranged for the Knights will be a wheelbarrow race, sausage eating contest, shoe race, potato race and foot race. Miss Katharine Shea is head of the outing committee.

Bank Clerk Denies Embezzling Charge

Waving preliminary investigation, Rafael Carmen Calvo, 26 years old, son of a former minister from Costa Rica, living at 1804 Q street northwest, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of embezzling $1,500 of the Liberty National Bank funds, where he was employed. He was released in $5,000 bail for grand jury action. Calvo was arrested Friday, following an investigation of his accounts at the bank and discovery of an alleged shortage. Police say that the teller confessed when arrested.

Grotto to Picnic At Marshall Hall

The annual outing of Kallipolis Grotto will be held at Marshall hall August 3. Among the features will be a Charleston contest, and varied athletic events. Refreshments will be served and dancing will be on the program in the afternoon and evening.

The first boat will leave Seventh street wharf at 10 a. m. H. B. Plankinton is chairman of the outing committee.

Divorce Bill Dismissed.

Mrs. Lula M. Griffin, who sued her husband, William T. Griffin, for limited divorce June 21, dismissed her bill yesterday in equity court.
